— SOME ACKNOWLEDGMENTS —

Several people and institutions have contributed to the illustrations. I wish to thank the Public Record Office for permission to use the detail from the port book, the Dorset Record Office for the manorial record, and the New York State Library for permission to use George Cook's "passport," and the staff of the Portsmouth, Rhode Island, town clerk's office for their help, over a period of years, in obtaining copies of records there.

Rev. P. D. May, formerly of Netherbury, supplied the photograph of John Cooke's baptismal record. The photographs of Netherbury were taken by my husband, John W. Fiske, and my son Bill, on different occasions. The photographs of the miniature portraits of Henry and Rebecca Marchant (hers by Copley) were copied from History of the Narragansett Church. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert V. Cooke of Hempstead, Texas, own the portrait of Henry Marchant Cooke, and James L. Cooke took that photograph and also lent those of Mr. and Mrs. William Gaston Cooke. June Lee Nelson supplied the photo of Joel Burton Cook and his wife, and Cliffie Patterson lent that of her grandfather Edward Patterson Cook. James Allyn Cook owns the photos of Jeremiah Russell Cook and his son Benjamin Franklin Cook of Gloucester, Mass., and Mollie Mattingley of Colorado sent the snapshot of Jeremiah's daughter Julia (Cook) Murray. John Peirce of Topsfield, Mass., lent me the original photograph of Thomas Wentworth and Catherine Cornelia Peirce. The picture of Margaret Ann Cook came from Mr. and Mrs. U. V. Jones, and that of Charles Price and Annie Laurie Cook from Mary Andrlik of Dallas, Texas. The late Ralph J. Cook sent the photographs of his parents John Thomas and Mary Ellen (Shields) Cook, Nancy Dolliver of Derry, N.H., sent the pictures of Augustus and Elma Sidney Mandell, and Jennifer Gensler supplied the photo of her grandfather, Elmer Cook. Nancy Piccirilli came across the picture of William Earl Cook in a used book store and sent it along. Several other pictures were copied from county histories. The photos of Dr. Alfred Cook and Leon D. Cook are from the latter's book based on Dr. Alfred's notes (see "Sources").

Most of the maps were drawn or adapted by John W. Fiske, who also took all of the gravestone photographs.

1047. WILLIAM[8] COOK, son of William Cook [477] and his wife Patience Borden, was born 1 May 1796 in Tiverton, R.I., and died 5 September 1882 at Cato, N.Y.

He married, first, at Lysander, Onondaga County, N.Y., 21 May 1817, MIRANDA BRONSON, who died 7 January 1840. He was married, second, at Ira, N.Y., 1 April 1840, by Rev. W. Downs, Presbyterian minister, to SARAH DIX PARKS, who was born ca. 1812 and was living in 1882 at Cato, N.Y.

William served in the War of 1812 and received Bounty Land for his service. On 12 August 1852 William Cook, 56, appointed Benson D. Cook his attorney for the land, which amounted to 40 acres; Asel Cook and Mary A. Eldridge of Pompey were witnesses. In his application for a pension, dated 18 March 1878, he stated that he was drafted at Pompey 10 October 1814, had served as a private in Capt. Asa Wells' Company, New York Militia, then as a sergeant, and was discharged at Henderson's Harbor, N.Y. 12 November 1814. He received $8. per month, and on 9 October 1882 his widow Sarah applied for a widow's pension. It was stated that at the time of his enlistment William had been 18, a farmer, about 6 feet tall, with brown hair, blue eyes, and of light complexion, born in Rhode Island 1 May 1796. Dates of both his marriages were given and that of Miranda's death, and Sarah declared that he was her only husband. She had pleurisy and was unable to go to Auburn to testify, so depositions were taken from her and from Ann Morley, age 79, and Chester Morley, age 54, both of Meridian Village. William had lived at Pompey from the time of his discharge until 1861, when he moved to Lysander, and then to Cato (Post Office Meridian), where he died.

Sarah stated that she and William had three children, but did not give their names. Further information was requested from a granddaughter, Mrs. Addie W. Niles, of Cazenovia, N.Y., but no further information appears in the file (War of 1812 Pension Files: Invalid 24,931; Widow's 33,081).

In 1850 the census listed William's mother and step-father, Patience and Increase Jackson, living in his household in Pompey, N.Y.

She and BENJAMIN WARDWELL, both of Fall River, were married there 2 February 1836 by Orin Fowler, minister of the Congregational Church.

The petition for administration on the estate of Elizabeth Wardwell, dated 21 May 1879, names as heirs her children, James and Theodore Wardwell, Susan B. Read wife of Jirah A.; Mary E. Hamilton, wife of James; Lydia Read, wife of Walter, all of Fall River; and Phebe Farrington, wife of David, of Providence (Bristol Co. Probate File, not numbered).

1052. VERNON[8] COOK, son of Robert Cook [480] and his wife Hope Borden, was born 4 May 1811 at Fall River, Massachusetts, and died there 5 December 1875.

He and CANDACE W. SNELL, both of Fall River, were married there 13 September 1827. She was born at Fall River 17 January 1811, daughter of Amos and Lydia Snell, and died there 29 July 1843 of consumption. Vernon married, second, ABIAH HATHAWAY, daughter of Thomas and Charity (Snell) Hathaway, born at Dartmouth, Massachusetts 17 April 1820, who died 19 July 1892. They are all buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Fall River, with the children who died young.

Vernon Cook was a merchant and lumber dealer; the 1853 Directory of Fall River lists V. & W. M. Cook, coal, lumber &c, Old Steamboat Wharf, residence at 40 Elm Street.

Children (births recorded Fall River VR 3:144),

(by first wife, Candace Snell):

2033. i. MARIETTA BORDEN[9], b. 31 July 1838, d. 25 March 1923 unmarried.

(by second wife, Abiah Hathaway):

2036. iv. MARY L., b. Sept. 1849, d. 3 Nov. 1851 ae. 2y 2m of consumption.

2037. v. CANDACE, b. 20 July 1851, d. 22 Feb. 1932, unmarried. She taught school in Fall River and later was principal of a school there. Her will, dated 27 Sept. 1930 and proved 18 March 1932, includes a bequest to her sister-in-law Edith L. Cook of Providence and leaves the residue of her estate to her three nieces, Mary V. Anthony, Irene B. Anthony, and Candace C. Winter (Bristol Co. Probate File 66084).

+2038. vi. IRENE BUTLER, b. 4 July 1853; m. George H. Anthony.

+2040. viii. ROBERT, b. 11 July 1857; m. Edith L. Hooper.

1053. ROBERT[8] COOK, son of Robert Cook [480] and his wife Hope Borden, was born 9 September 1813 at Fall River, Mass., and died there 4 May 1887.

He married, before 1850, MARY MACOMBER, daughter of Weston and Catherine S. (Tripp) Macomber, born 30 August 1822 at Westport, who died 25 June 1907 at Fall River. They are buried in Oak Grove Cemetery. The 1853 Directory of Fall River lists Robert Cook & William Durfee, Ice Dealers, on Hartwell Street. At that time the family lived at 43 Pocasset Street.

On 6 January 1871 Stephen E. DeMoranville of Westport petitioned that the name of Weston E. DeMoranville be changed to Weston Loring Cook (Bristol Co. Probate 225:427).

The will of Robert Cook, dated 5 February 1876, names only his wife Mary B. Cook, who was appointed executrix. The petition, in addition to the widow, names only Robert's brother Algeron Cook and the known nieces and nephews. It would thus appear that Weston Loring Cook was not a legal heir, although his marriage and death records list Robert and Mary as his parents. He is buried with them in Oak Grove Cemetery, along with Mary's much younger sister, Lydia (Macomber) Petty, born 1847, who died 25 September 1922, wife of Herbert G. Petty. Lydia was probably brought up as a daughter in the Cook family, but her marriage record gives the names of her parents.

Children (third probably adopted):

2041. i. HOPE B., b. Jan. 1850, d. 18 Feb. 1850 ae. 21 days of erysiplis.

2042. ii. MARY, b. 28 Aug. 1852 Fall River, d. probably young.

2043. iii. WESTON LORING, b. 22 June 1860 as Weston E. DeMoranville, probably at Westport; d. 14 Aug. 1941; m. Edwina Davis, daughter of Alfred B. and Celestia (Bigelow) Davis, b. 3 Nov. 1863 Taunton, d. 13 June 1951 Fall River. They had at least three children: AMIE W.[10], b. Aug. 1887; CELESTIA B., b. Feb. 1889, m. William Cooper; and RALPH MAHLON, b. Sept. 1898, d. 2 July 1922 of cancer of the knee and lung. In 1900 the family was living at 836 New Boston Rd., Fall River.

1055. SAMUEL S.[8] COOK, son of Robert Cook [480] and his wife Hope Borden, was born 24 November 1818 in Fall River, Massachusetts, and died there, at 8 Rodman Street, 6 April 1881 of paralysis. His death record lists him as a salesman.

He married at the Christian Church, Fall River, 17 February 1842, HANNAH T. WALDRON, who was born 3 October 1822 at Pawtucket, R.I., and died 25 November 1879 at Fall River. They are buried in North Burial Ground, Fall River.

Children (perhaps others):

2044. i. HORACE M.[9], b. ca. 1843, d. 9 Oct. 1918 at Cambridge, Mass., aged 76y 1m 15d, of bronchial pneumonia; buried Cambridge Cemetery. In 1865 he was a carriage painter, living at home; he evidently went to Boston ca. 1885. Administration on his estate was granted to Candace Cook of Fall River 15 Oct. 1918, George H. Anthony and Bethana B. Borden as sureties; heirs listed were all cousins: Candace Cook and Maritta Cook of Fall River; Emma I. Holmes of Portland, Ore.; Wilbur Cook of San Francisco; Algeron Cook of Oakland, Calif.; Oscar F. Douglas of Fall River; William H. Douglas of Knoxville, Tenn.; and Belle Carlisle of Pittsburg, Pa. (Middlesex Co. Probate File 118670).

2045. ii. MARY HOLT, b. 30 Sept. 1852 Fall River; died apparently before 1918 without surviving issue.

1057. ALGERON MORDINGTON[8] COOK, son of Robert Cook [480] and his wife Hope Borden, was born 14 May 1823 in Fall River, Massachusetts, and died 19 January 1899 at San Francisco, California.

He married at Little Compton, R.I., 1 August 1858, EMILY J. WILBORE, daughter of Abraham and Eliza A. (Brown) Wilbore. She was born 7 August 1832 and died in San Francisco 20 May 1888.

In 1853 Algeron Cook was a machine engraver, boarding with his brother Robert in Fall River. The family went to California to live before 1871.

In his will dated 25 May 1895, Algeron Mordington Cook left to his daughter Emma Isabel Cook all the furniture and silver in the house and half the residue of the estate; the other half was left in equal shares to his two sons, Wilbur Borden Cook and Algeron Mordington Cook. He named his daughter executrix of the will; on 2 June 1899 Candace Cook of Fall River was appointed agent for property owned by the deceased there (Bristol Co. Probate File).

Children (two oldest b. Fall River, others California):

2046. i. EMILY J.[9], later EMMA ISABEL, b. July 1859, d. after 1918 when living in Portland, Ore.; m. between 1900 and 1918, —— Holmes (see probate of her cousin Horace Cook).

2047. ii. HOPE, b. ca. 1865, d. young.

+2048. iii. WILBER BORDEN, b. 1871; m. Dora L. ——.

2049. iv. ALGERON MORDINGTON, b. Sept. 1872, d. after 1918 when living Oakland, California; perhaps the Algron Cook, b. Jan. 1871 California, living in Hot Springs, Napa Co., in 1900 with wife Sarah E., b. Sept. 1870 in Wisconsin.

1058. ISAAC[8] COOK, son of Robert Cook [480] and his wife Hope Borden, was born 29 December 1825 at Fall River, Massachusetts, and died after 1858, probably in California.

He married KATIE W. IRVING, who was born August 1833 in Massachusetts and died after 1910 when she was sharing a household with her widowed daughter-in-law. In 1900 she was living at 81 Noe Street, San Francisco, with her son and Emma F. Irving, sister-in-law, whose birth was given in the census as July 1845 in Rhode Island. In 1910 Katie was stated to be the mother of two children, neither of them then living.

Children (born California):

2050. i. Child[9], d. before 1910.

2051. ii. IRVING B., b. Nov. 1858, d. 3 Aug. 1909 San Francisco; m. Hattie ——. In his will dated 3 Sept. 1903 and proved 2 June 1910 in San Francisco, he named his mother Katie W. Cook and wife Hattie Cook, whose age was given in the probate as 35. On 2 Dec. 1910 Hattie Cook, Maritta B. Cook and Irene B. Anthony posted bond in Bristol Co., Mass. for Candace Cook to act as agent for real estate owned by the deceased in Fall River, described as an undivided fifth part of the Hannah Cook estate, which came to the said Irving B. Cook from his father Isaac Cook and from the heirs of Paul Cook, located north of Lawton Street and east of Stafford Road (Bristol Co. Probate File).

1060. JOHN[8] COOK, son of Elihu Cook [482] and his first wife, Amey Young, was born probably about 1793 in the part of Tiverton, R.I., which became Fall River, Massachusetts, and died probably in North Carolina.

He married at Warwick, R.I., 5 August 1813, SUSANNAH BUTTS. Her parents have not been identified, but the Butts manuscript at Rhode Island Historical Society lists her as probably the daughter of Benjamin and Barbara (Stafford) Butts.

On 24 November 1825 John Cook of Troy [Fall River], carpenter, sold to Caleb Cook, of the same place, land on the road leading from Fall River Village to New Bedford, "it being the same lot set off to me as my proportion in the estate of my late father Elihu Cook." The deed was signed by John and Susannah Cook and witnessed by Susan H. Canady, John Andrews and William Butts. On the same day, with the same witnesses, John and Susannah quitclaimed to Caleb, Gardner D., Joseph S., Linden and Mary Cook, all of Troy, children of the late Elihu Cook, their right in other property there (Bristol Co. Deeds 118:293-4).

John and Susannah apparently moved south about this time, and the only further records of them that have been found concern two of their children. One son, David, appears to have been left behind in Massachusetts with relatives, although he may have returned later on his own. Record of another son, Abraham Benjamin, has come down in family papers of Mrs. Patt Peterson of Plant City, Florida. These include the claim that John and Susannah had "many children," but the documents trace only Abraham.

Children (said to have been others):

+2052. i. ABRAHAM BENJAMIN[9], b. 29 May 1815; m. Tolitha Melton.

+2053. ii. DAVID WILLIAM B., b. 16 Jan. 1821; m. Amelia Jackson.

1063. GARDNER DEAN[8] COOK, son of Elihu Cook [482] and his second wife, Sarah Sherman, was born 31 January 1803 in the part of North Tiverton, R.I., which became Fall River, Massachusetts, and died there 19 March 1881. He was a manufacturer of shoes.

He and AMY C. FAULKNER of Portsmouth were married in Fall River 28 August 1823. She was probably the daughter of Thomas and Mary (Bennett) Faulkner; her death record shows only her mother's name. She died 7 February 1882 at Fall River, aged 83 years, 3 months and 21 days. They are both buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Fall River, with their two unmarried daughters.

No probate records have been found for Gardner D. or Amy Cook.

Children (births of all but Julia recorded Fall River VR):

2054. i. HARRIET B.[9], b. 18 Sept. 1824, d. 23 July 1896 unmarried.

1068. PARDON[8] COOK, son of Peter Cook [483] and his wife Anna Borden, was born 1 June 1796 in the part of North Tiverton, R.I., which became Fall River, Massachusetts, and died there 7 June 1875. He was a carpenter.

He married ca. 1826 RHODA BORDEN, daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Bowen) Borden, born 21 March 1798 in Tiverton, who died before 1850, probably in New York State. Pardon and Rhoda were second cousins; her grandparents were Nathan and Hannah (Cook) Bowen. She is named in the will of her grandfather Bowen.

According to the Pardon Gray Seabury Papers, Rhoda's parents went to Cayuga County, N.Y., where her father died in May 1848. Pardon and Rhoda evidently also removed to Venice, Cayuga County, and Rhoda probably died there; Pardon is shown on the 1850 census in Venice with his two sons and a servant girl, Betsy Williams. Letters quoted in the Bowen Genealogy speak of his intent to return to Fall River, where he was listed in the 1865 Massachusetts Census. He is buried in Oak Grove Cemetery.

In his will dated 28 January 1875, Pardon Cook named his son Irving, the latter's wife Martha and their daughters Mary A. and Rhoda Borden Cook; his son Nelson P. and his children Ada and Alfred Cook; and the children of his deceased daughter Ariadne Bancroft (Bristol Co. Probate File, not numbered).

Children (first two probably born in Fall River; third in New York State):

1069. WILLIAM[8] COOK, son of Peter Cook [483] and his wife Anna Borden, was born in August 1798 in the part of Tiverton, R.I., which became Fall River, Massachusetts, and died there 12 July 1880. He was a carpenter and housewright.

His marriage intentions with his second cousin, HANNAH BORDEN, were published at Fall River 3 November 1822. She was born 5 December 1803, daughter of Richard and Patty (Bowen) Borden, and died 28 September 1891. Her grandfather, Nathan Bowen, named her in his will dated 6 September 1825 as the wife of William Cook. One of her brothers, Richard Borden, married William's sister Lucy Cook, and another brother, Abraham, was the grandfather of Lizzie Borden.

Hannah was one of the first power loom weavers in Fall River. At fourteen, she was fascinated by the new machines and persuaded her father to allow her to go to work in the Yellow Mill, of which he was a large stockholder. In an interview for the Fall River Globe 27 February 1889, she described her experiences as a weaver. (Kenneth Champlin, chart of the Bordens, in Spinner, vol. 2 [1982] p. 89). It was Hannah who discovered the "skeleton in armor" in a sand bank which inspired Longfellow's poem of that name. According to the Bowen Genealogy, she was digging sand to use for scouring knives when she found the skeleton, clad in what was thought to be Norse armor but was probably Indian; it was destroyed when the Fall River Athenaeum burned.

William and Hannah are buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Fall River, with their daughter Hannah and son Bennett.

Children, (last two from Bowen Genealogy, which omits Bennett):

2064. i. BENNETT[9], b. Sept. 1823, d. 23 July 1877 Fall River; m. at Fall River, by Rev. Emery J. Harris, 3 Dec. 1870, as her second husband, Sarah (Fish) Gardner, widow of Oliver Gardner (who d. Aug. 1869) and daughter of Isaac and Ann Fish, b. 20 Sept. 1830 Portsmouth, R.I., d. 6 Aug. 1895 Tiverton; both buried Oak Grove. No children, and Sarah had none by her first marriage.

Bennett Cook was a private in the Signal Corps during the Civil War and in 1881 received an invalid pension. According to information in the lengthy file in the National Archives, he enlisted at Boston 3 March 1864 and was a first lieutenant in Charles F. Cross' detachment of Signal Corps; he was discharged at Winchester, Va. 22 Aug. 1865. John Johnston of Fall River, who served with him, testified that they had been in Sherman's Army on the march through Georgia, and that Bennett had been taken sick and, unable to ride a horse, had been carried by wagon or ambulance, and later transferred to General Sheridan's service in Virginia, where he acted as a cook. Francis McGraw, another fellow soldier, testified that they had been in front of Kennesaw Mountain in Georgia when Bennett first became sick, and that before the war he had been a stout rugged man. Dr. Jerome Dwelly, physician, of Fall River, stated that he had known Bennett from childhood, and had "practiced medicine some in his father's family and knew him very well; he had folowed the sea some and was a strong, healthy fellow."

Sarah applied for and received a widow's pension, but some years after his death, which occurred in the middle of the night, her pension was re-examined; this generated voluminous testimony from relatives, friends and neighbors. The former town clerk of Tiverton, George N. Durfee, admitted that it had been his "custom, when proper dates were not filed with me prior to the close of the year to go out or send out a clerk to go to any family or neighbor and obtain information necessary to make the record." He had recorded Bennet's death as occurring "in a fit," and some people had accused the deceased of imbibing too freely and eating raw quahogs the evening before his death. After extensive inquiry it was decided that the death was the result of acute diarrhoea dating back to his Army days.

Sarah gave an account of their life together, living in a cottage close to the salt water, fishing together, selling "some of our own fish and clams if we had more than we wanted." She described the last day of her husband's life, stating that some friends had come down from Fall River and she had rowed them out a little way from the house while Bennett sat in the door and watched. She claimed that he had not eaten any quahogs and didn't like them. Relatives who testified included her sisters Anna B. Reed and Jane G. Greene (Civil War Pension Certificates: Invalid 281,111, Widow's 237,965).

In 1867 Bennet Cook was in charge of a lighthouse on an island at Fall River. In a letter dated 1 July 1867, addressed to Capt. Simmons, he reported that he had been "visited Saturday afternoon by an officer from the Fort. He said that he came by authority of Gen. Sherman who commands the Harbor and the defense of Newport ... wanted to know by whose authority I occupied the Island. I told him that I was sent there by Mr. Church, Sgt. of the Narragansett Steamboat Company and a light for the few boats to Bristol ... all things right with me on the Island and get along first rate ... Yours truly, Bennet Cook" (R.I. Archives 41:143)

His pension records show that he worked in Barker's Lumber Yard, and his widow said that in September 1876 they had gone to Michigan for a little visit but had come home after two months.

Hannah made her own inventory, declaring that her estate consisted of one half interest in real estate at 17 Marian Ave., Campbell (Brockton), and $4000. cash with a further sum to come from the estate of Mary Ann Borden of Fall River, deceased (Plymouth Co. He married LYDIA M. [?MANCHESTER] HATHAWAY, who died 21 October 1846. She is buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, Fall River, with Peter's parents; cemetery records give her age as 22 years, which may be an error; if correct, she must have been a second wife. The death record of Peter's daughter Emeline states that she was born in Connecticut and that her mother was a Manchester.

On 3 October 1853 Charles J. Cook, son of Peter Cook, requested that his father be appointed his guardian (Tiverton Probate 13:366). They are buried in the Presbyterian Church Cemetery, New Scotland, where one large stone is inscribed with names and birthdates for all their children although not all are buried there.

Sanford Cook was a farmer in New Scotland. In his will dated 18 September 1877 and proved 12 June 1882, he named his wife Emily; his son Clinton, who received the land in New Scotland; Peter, Franklin, Sanford and Susan Cook, children of his deceased son Ephraim; his sons Pardon and Asmer Cook; and his daughter Viana Palmatere (Albany Co. Wills 30:11).

Emily Cook in her will, dated 19 May 1884 and proved 27 January 1896, left all her real estate to her son Clinton Cook, whom she appointed executor. The petition lists as heirs Viana E. Palmateer of Asbury Park, N.J., daughter; Pardon Cook of Goodwin, town of Clear Lake, South Dakota, son; Asmer Cook of New Scotland, son; and grandchildren Franklin and Sanford Cook of Orange, N.J., and Susan Allen of the City of Albany, N.Y. (ibid., 44:417).

1092. ANN8 COOK, daughter of David Cook [496] and his first wife, Ruth Sanford, was born ca. 1808 at Berne, N.Y., and died there 19 February 1877 aged 69 years. She married before 1829 EASTON SISSON, who was born ca. 1804 at Berne and died there 15 March 1877. They are buried in the Berne and Beaverdam Cemetery. Easton has not been identified, but was probably a brother of Thomas Sisson, born ca. 1796 in Rhode Island, who lived nearby in Berne; the 1855 Census indicates that Thomas had lived in Berne since 1798. They may both have been sons of Jabez and Ann (Sanford) Sisson.

Children, surname SISSON:

i. SANFORD C., b. 12 June 1829, d. 7 March 1892; m. Frances M. ——, b. 4 Feb. 1830, London, England, d. 13 March 1894. They lived in Rensselaerville in 1865 and are buried in Medusa Cemetery.

ii. ELIZABETH, b. 28 June 1837, d. 29 Nov. 1892; m. 9 Nov. 1857 E. M. Shultes. In 1855 she was a teacher, living with her parents.

1093. ABRAHAM/ABRAM8 COOK, son of David Cook [496] and his first wife, Ruth Sanford, was born ca. 1810 at Berne, N.Y., and died there, "on West Mountain," 6 April 1864 (Berne VR, N.Y. State Library). He married, first, JANE CROCKER, daughter of Rev. —— Crocker, who died before 1855, and, second, ca. 1856, MARY LOUNSBURY, daughter of Daniel Lounsbury. Mary was born ca. 1816 in Albany County and died in 1894. They are buried in South Berne Rural Cemetery.

Abram Cook was a member of the Rensselaerville Baptist Church from 1851 to 1861. In 1855 the census listed him as a widower, head of a household that included Polly Winegar, 50, housekeeper, and Belinda Finch, 16, servant.

He died intestate. Administration of his estate indicates that he owned 116 acres, Lot 357, in Rensselaerville. His widow Mary requested that her dower right be set off, but this was delayed because, according to a note from William Tanner of Medusa dated 20 February 1865, there were ten feet of snow on the ground. Davis Lounsbury of Rensselaerville in a deposition declared that Mary Cook was his sister and that she and Abram Cook had been married for about eight or nine years before he died. It was mentioned also that Almira Stuart of South Berne, a school teacher, was Mary Cook's sister (Albany County Adm.).

The will of Mary Cook of Westerlo, dated 16 January 1894 and proved 19 March 1894, left a farm in Westerlo to the children of Joseph W. Fancher and his wife Mary C. Fancher, and all her household goods to their daughter Eva. her brother Davis Lounsbury of New Scotland was to have the residue and to be executor (Albany Co. Wills 43:382). Relationships are explained in the will of Almira Stuart of Westerlo, dated 11 March 1889 and proved in 1891, which names her sister Mary Cook executrix and leaves all her estate to granddaughter Eva Fancher.

Because Abram Cook predeceased his father, his children are named in the administration of their grandfather's estate.

Children (from probate records of David Cook; probably all b. Berne, N.Y.; all by first wife, Jane Crocker):

+2114. i. CHESTER C.9, b. Oct. 1836; m. Martha Lounsbury.

2115. ii. MADISON, b. 25 Jan. 1840, d. 3 June 1914 at New Scotland; buried Medusa. In the Civil War, he was a private in Company K, 7th Regiment, N.Y. Heavy Artillery, and in 1882 he applied for an invalid pension, declaring that he had contracted rheumatism in August 1864 from severe hardship, exposure, and inhumane treatment while a prisoner at Andersonville, Ga. Records show that he enlisted 1 Aug. 1862 at Rensselaerville, N.Y. and was discharged 28 June 1865 at Annapolis, Md. At the time of his enlistment he was a farmer, 5 ft. 7 in. tall, of fair complexion with gray eyes and sandy hair. An examination at age 42 described him as 5 ft. 9 in. with brown hair and gray eyes, weighing 125 lbs. He was captured 14 June 1864 at Petersburg, Va., and confined in Andersonville until 29 April 1865 when he was paroled at Jacksonville, Fla., and treated at the Navy Yard, Annapolis, Md. After his discharge he lived at Kingston, DeKalb Co., Ill., then in Colorado, later in Bellevidere, Boone Co., Ill., and at one time went to Salt Lake City, Utah, hopeing to get relief from the climate there, but returned home to Medusa, N.Y. In 1882 he stated his occupation as driving a team to carry passengers. Later he lived in Albany. Evidence was given by Dr. Hunt of Belvedere, Ill., Joseph H. Pulman of Rensselaerville, who stated that Madison had been "reduced to a mere shadow," and Frederick Palmer of Westerlo, who had served in the same company and said that Madison had been "down to 75 lbs." His cousin Clinton Cook of New Scotland also testified about his disability. A dispute about his year of birth was settled by producing the family Bible, printed in 1826, which was, however, given back to the claimant.

In his will, dated 29 Sept. 1913 and proved 26 June 1914, Madison Cook of New Scotland, N.Y., named his nephew Edward Cook and Edward's daughters Myrtle and Laura; his niece Emma Wilsie and her children Heslet and Martha; and his nephew Jerome Cook and Jerome's son Leonard Cook. The petition listed as next of kin his brothers Chester Cook of Rensselaerville and Eugene Cook of Medusa, N.Y. (Albany Co. Wills 66:150).

2116. iii. ELECTUS, b. ca. 1842, d. probably between 1855 and 1865.

2117. iv. BRUNETTE S., b. 1844, d. 1908; m. at Berne Christian Church, 25 Dec. 1864, Joseph Pullman, son of Stoddard D. and Caroline Pullman (Rensselaerville VR), b. ca. 1843 in Albany County. Brunette Pullman is buried in Rensselaerville Cemetery.

+2118. v. EUGENE, b. 10 July 1846; m. Augusta Lounsbury.

1094. AVERY8 COOK, son of David Cook [496] and his first wife, Ruth Sanford, was born ca. 1814 at Berne, N.Y., and died after 1864 when he sold his land in Westerlo, N.Y. He married before 1836 CALISTA ANN WEST, daughter of William and Ann West, who was baptized 2 May 1821 at the Presbyterian Church in Rensselaerville by Rev. A. Bronson. By the will of her father in 1838 Calista Ann Cook received a cow and the best looking glass in the house (Albany Co. Wills).

The family lived in Middleburgh for some time before moving to Westerlo, where in 1850 Avery was listed as an innkeeper, with his father in his household. In 1855 he was stated to have no occupation, and the 1860 census listed him as a gentleman. On 21 November 1864 Avery and Calista Cook sold to Romeyn Arnold an acre and a quarter in Westerlo, part of Lot 219, and on 13 December they sold 101 acres, Lot 220 in Westerlo, to Joseph C. Weeden. The compiler has not located them after that, and it is thought that they probably went to Illinois.

Children (from census and gravestones):

2120. ii. LOSINA, b. ca. 1839 Schoharie County.

1095. JOHN MARVIN[8] COOK, son of David Cook [496] and his first wife, Ruth Sanford, was born ca. 1816 at Berne, N.Y., and died 16 March 1868.

He married NANCY ANN STEWART, daughter of Robert and Mary Stewart, who is named in the 1868 will of her father as the widow of Marvin Cook. She was born September 1820 in New York State and died after 1900 when she was living with her daughter Mary Jones. She married, second, —— Sweet, but apparently resumed the name Cook before the 1900 census.

He is shown in early records as John M. Cook, but gradually began to use the name Marvin. They lived in Berne until 1853, when they settled in Westerlo. On 1 April 1853 John M. and Nancy A. Cook sold to Sanford C. Sisson 65 acres in Berne, Lot 420 (Albany Co. Deeds 216:507).

Administration on the estate of John M. Cook, late of Westerlo, deceased, was given to the widow Nancy Ann Cook 30 March 1868. Heirs-at-law, beside the widow, were a son and five daughters: Mary O. Jones of Bethlehem, Harriet A. Reyna, Henrietta H. Cook, Alice M. Cook, Adoniram J. Cook, and Marvina Cook, all of Westerlo and all minors except Mary. Nancy Ann was given guardianship of the younger children, whose birthdates were stated; it was calculated that each child was entitled to personal property of about $200. and real estate of about $80. (Albany Co. Adm. 11:192).

On 13 January 1869 Nancy A. Cook and others sold to Caroline Smith and others 74 acres in Westerlo and another piece of land to Salome Stewart and others. On 15 March 1875, Nancy A. Sweet sold her dower right in land of her former husband to William Roberts and Levi Moak (Albany Co. Deeds 284:285-6).

1096. SQUIRE8 COOK, son of David Cook [496] and his first wife, Ruth Sanford, was born 2 January 1820 at Berne, N.Y., and died 10 July 1896 in Oklahoma. In records, including his own family Bible, his name was often spelled "Square" Cook. He was probably named after his maternal uncle, Squire Sanford; the name Squire, or Esquire, was used as a given name in the Dartmouth-Westport area of Massachusetts a generation earlier.

He married, probably in Schoharie County, N.Y., 20 October 1839, DEBORAH P. SHEPHERD who was born 8 November 1818 in Greene County, N.Y., and died 8 September 1904 in Oklahoma. The 1880 census states that both of her parents were born in New York. Dates of birth, death and marriage, and her maiden name, are from an original Bible record filed with Deborah's application for a pension based on the Civil War death of her son James H. Cook (see below).

On 7 September 1841 Squire Cook bought from Daniel Deuel 161 acres, Lot 263, in Rensselaerville. He also owned 71 acres in Westerlo, part of Lot 214, which he and Deborah sold to Elizabeth Bull on 1 March 1852. They were listed on the 1850 census in Middleburgh, Schoharie County. On 15 April 1856 they sold the Rensselaerville land to John C. Hazzard, and apparently moved to Illinois about that time (Albany Co. Deeds 73:109; 117:116; 138:179). The 1870 census shows them in Gilman, Douglass Township, Iroquois Co., Ill., and a few years later they moved to Newton, Kansas.

A letter from Deborah to her husband's nephew, Sanford Bull, dated 7 February 1878 at Newton, Kansas and describing their life there, has survived in the possession of this compiler. "Digging away as usual," she wrote, they were waiting for their hedge to grow large enough for them to keep more livestock. There was a good crop of cherries and strawberries but most of the fruit trees had not yet started to bear; wheat and corn had been hampered by wet weather. Sanford had mentioned in a letter having made a visit to her home town, (not named), and she says, "How I wish I could have been with you, I should like not only a peep but to walk in to the old church that I after these long years of wandering love best, for it was there in life's bright morning that I gave God my heart..." At that time they were sharing a home with their son David and his family.

On 24 November 1900 Deborah P. Cook applied for a mother's pension based on the death of her older son in the Civil War. The file includes a deposition by Marietta Lamoureaux, 60, of Thawville, Iroquois County, Illinois, who testified that she had known the claimant for 55 years, and also a letter from David B. Cook, who sent the pages out of the family Bible, notarized in Canadian County, Oklahoma Territory, 21 Oct. 1901. In his letter he stated that it was impossible to furnish evidence of persons who had been present when James was born, that he was born in the country where no birth records were provided for by law, and the church that his mother belonged to did not approve of infant baptism, "the only Baptism he ever received was the fire of Battle." (Civil War Mother's Pension File, Cert. 534,742)

Children (born Albany County, N.Y.):

1097. FRANKLIN MORTIMER[8] COOK, son of David Cook [496] and his first wife, Ruth Sanford, was born 18 July 1824 at Berne, N.Y., and died 26 March 1880. He married FRANCES M. OWEN, called Fannie, daughter of Joseph and Betsy Owen, born in Berne 19 March 1828, who died 28 July 1902 at Middleburgh. They are buried in Middleburgh Cemetery. The 1855 state census lists them living in Berne with her parents; her father was born in Albany County, her mother in Columbia County, N.Y.

On 26 March 1855 Franklin M. Cook and wife Fannie sold to Thomas Cook 80 acres, part of Lot 420 in Berne, which had been deeded to Franklin by his father 29 March 1849 (Albany Co. Deeds 132:236; 125:320). In 1856 he bought a tavern in Livingstonville, Schoharie County, which he kept for some years; it is shown as the F.M. Cook Hotel on the 1866 Beers Map. In 1868 he bought land next to the Lutheran parsonage in Middleburgh, and the 1872 Directory of that town lists him as proprietor of a livery stable and summer boarding house and also a deputy sheriff.

She married, first, ca. 1846, THOMAS BULL, son of John and Anna (Stuart) Bull, born 8 January 1822 at Indian Fields, Coeymans, N.Y., who died 8 June 1865; he is buried in Indian Fields Cemetery. Thomas was a seventh generation descendant of Gov. Henry Bull of Rhode Island, (John[6], John[5], Ephraim[4], Ephraim[3], Jireh[2], Henry[1]). He and Cordelia were divorced not long before his death, and she resumed her maiden name. Later she married, second, as his second wife, ANTHONY WOLFE of Coeymans, N.Y., and she is buried with him and her sons in Grove Cemetery, Coeymans.

Cordelia was the great-grandmother of this compiler; through her father she was descended from Thomas[2] Cook and through her mother, Ruth Sanford, she had two lines of descent from John[2] Cook through his daughters Elizabeth Briggs and Mary Manchester.

On 10 June 1865 Cordelia Cook of the town of Coeymans, N.Y., was given administration on the estate of Thomas Bull, who on 7 June 1865 had died a natural death in the City of Albany, leaving two sons, both minors, and herself, who was the wife of the deceased, from whom she was duly divorced. She was also given guardianship of David C. Bull, 17, and Sanford Bull, 14 (Albany Co. Adm. 11:29).

She married, first, — ORTON, who evidently died before 1850, and, second, before 1854, ELI R. JACOBS. The 1850 census lists Lydia Orton in LaFayette, Onondaga County, N.Y. with two children, living next door to Eli R. They are buried in section 30, Highland Cemetery, Columbia Township, Jackson County, Michigan (Jackson Co. Cemetery Records, 2:796, DAR Library).

A. P. Cook settled in Michigan in 1838. With a partner he operated a general store, Harmon & Cook, and built a large house, now the American Legion Home, on Chicago Street, Brooklyn. He had also a farm of 475 acres, called the "Marsh Farm," just outside of town (information from Paul H. Totten of Brooklyn). He was a warden of All Saints Episcopal Church, Brooklyn. Work on the church began in 1861 but proceeded very slowly until A. P. Cook, "a well to do member, took matters into his own hands and saw to it that construction was carried through to completion the following year; after it was consecrated, Mr. Cook announced that he was relinquishing all claims and cheerfully donated all expenditures to the parish (Michigan Heritage, 9 (Autumn 1967), p. 79).

1109. GEORGE PERCIVAL[8] COOK, son of George Cook [499] and his wife Sophia Tyler, was born 17 August 1826 at Berne, N.Y., and died 25 April 1912 at Brooklyn, Michigan. He married MARIA O. RICE, who was born in New York State ca. 1842.

On 31 January 1865, George P. Cook and his wife Maria O. Cook deeded to his aunt, Ann Eliza Cook of Rensselaerville, N.Y., part of Lot 249 there, on the south side of the Albany and Delaware Turnpike (Albany Co. Deeds 198:346).

George was in business with his brother A. P. Cook in Brooklyn, Michigan. He was elected a vestryman of All Saints Church there in August 1858.

1110. JOHN E.[8] COOK, son of Earl Cook [502] and his wife Sarah Borden, was born 1 April [?1803] in Dartmouth, Mass. and died 11 January 1879 in Warwick, R.I. He was a mason.

He married, probably at Attleboro, Mass., 18 March 1830, BETSEY SALISBURY, daughter of Samuel Salisbury. A family Bible record states that "Betsy Cook was borned [in] South Scituate [R.I.] June 3, 1810"; she died 16 October 1894 in Warwick.

On 5 November 1832 John E. Cook of Attleboro, Mass., mason, bought from Richard and Louisa Everett land on the north side of the Norfolk and Bristol Turnpike, agreeing to remove buildings in the front for a strip of common land; all three parties signed. One year later John E. and Betsey Cook of Attleboro sold to Nathan T. Morse of Providence land with house thereon in the northern part of Attleboro (Bristol Co. Deeds 136:357; 140: 350). The 1850 census lists the family in North Providence.

In his declaration for a Civil War pension, their son George W. Cook gave some family information. He had heard his mother say that she was married in Attleboro, and he had been told his parents lived in Providence until he was about four, then went West. The only family Bible he knew of belonged to his wife's parents, and the birthdates of John and Betsey's three children had been entered in that by Betsey's brother Fenner Salisbury when he was visiting them.

According to the pension examiner, George and his sister were not on good terms, being "at loggerheads on account of trouble they had in settling of property affairs left by the mother." (Civil War Pension file 2086).

John died intestate. An inventory was presented 31 March 1879 (Warwick Probate 16:476). On 14 June 1879 Betsey Cook, widow of John E. Cook, James Henry Card and his wife Sarah M. Card in her right, all of Warwick, deeded to Joseph Card land and buildings in Warwick, on the west side of a crossroad leading from Centreville to Coweset Road. It was noted that this land had been deeded to John E. Cook on 2 October 1878 by Joseph G. Hayward. The widow Betsey conveyed her right of dower and also all the right and interest of George W. Cook as one of the heirs to the premises, noting that she had acquired this by deed of 3 March 1879 (Warwick Deeds E:100).

A Bible record of this family was given to the compiler in 1984 by Violet E. Kettelle of East Greenwich, R.I. It belonged originally to the Sunderland family, and some of the Cook entries are written on slips of paper; years of birth differ from those given in the pension file.

Children (dates from Bible record; pension file dates in parentheses):

1112. GEORGE EARL[8] COOK, son of Earl Cook [502] and his wife Sarah Borden, was born 4 July 1808, in Providence, R.I., according to family tradition, and died after 1889, probably in California.

He married, first, at Fall River, Mass., in 1838, MARY ANN MATHEWS, who according to family records was born at Bath, England, in 1820 and brought to the United States in 1832 by her parents. She died in 1862 following the birth of her daughter Carrie. George married, second, in 1866 or 1867, SUSAN FLEMING, who was born ca. 1807 in North Carolina and died ca. 1880 at Tonganoxie, Kansas.

George was last seen by his family in 1889 in Colorado before leaving for California. He was in Los Angeles when last heard from, but no news of his death ever reached the family.

Efforts to trace his ancestry were for many years unproductive, in spite of a family story which claimed that his youngest son, William Sprague Cook, was named for an uncle and that there was a silver spoon engraved with his name or initials which had been promised to Mary Ann if she would name her next child for him. Shortly before 1906 descendants of George, not knowing their correct ancestry, were planning to use the spoon as evidence to claim kinship to a William S. Cook who had died in San Francisco. Records were destroyed in the 1906 earthquake, but from other sources it was later learned that the California William was not a relative. Information about the correct Uncle William was finally found in the records of Swan Point Cemetery in Providence, providing the link which brought together the pieces of the puzzle. It appears that the namesake was born three years after his uncle's early death, the previous child having been a daughter.

Information on George's descendants has been supplied by his great-granddaughter, Katy Matthews of Topeka, Kansas.

He was a private in Company I, 12th Regiment, R.I. Infantry, enlisting 19 September 1862 and discharged 29 July 1863. R.I. Civil War records show in addition that he reenlisted August 1863 in Company B, 3rd R.I. Cavalry, was taken prisoner at Alexandria, Va. in April 1864, exchanged the following July, and was sick in hospital in New Orleans until December, then deserted 26 July 1865. Louisa applied for a widow's pension 25 June 1920, stating that she had married, second, in 1884, Albert H. He was married, second, by F.A. McCarty, minister, at Lexington, Illinois, to SARAH ELIZABETH (---) BARRETT, 68, widow of Daniel Barrett who had died at Lexington 5 December 1914.

Roland was a farmer, 5 feet 8 inches tall, of dark complexion with black eyes and dark hair, in April 1863 when he enlisted in Company B, 3rd Regiment R.I. Cavalry. He was discharged 16 November 1865 at New Orleans.

In 1925 he applied for a pension, claiming that he suffered from rheumatism, deafness and cataracts; his grandson, Glen S. Cook, was caring for him. In his declaration, Roland said that since his wife had died, he and his grandson had been "baching it"; when asked what Glen's occupation was, he replied, "he was knocked out in the World War and is not able to do much ... three of the boys were in the War that we raised ... Glen draws a pension but has a conservator ... his mind was affected." At one point, he stated that his youngest child would be 30 years old on 10 March 1937, but this must be an error; it appears that some grandchildren may have been brought up in the family, including Glen, who in his deposition referred to himself once as the son of Roland but then called the latter his grandfather. Glen also referred to a brother, presumably his own, in Texas, who had stayed with Roland for a short time following a discharge for disability and a stay in Jacksonville Hospital. (All the above information from Pension File XC 2566099, National Archives.)

The 1875 R.I. Census lists Rowland C. Cook, farmer, with wife Fannie, 27, born Tennessee, and son William, 6, born Warwick, R.I., living in Portsmouth; boarding with them was Frank Gray, 17, farm laborer, born New Hampshire. In 1850 the family was listed in Providence. On 5 October 1860 George and Mary Cook deeded to George H. Cook of Cranston land near Lippett (Warwick Deeds 32:401). At the time of Mary's death in 1885 they were living at 36 Peace Street, Providence, in Ward 9. The 1905 census lists George as a master mechanic and a Methodist.

Daniel L. Cook was a mariner in August 1842 when he registered with the Seaman's Protection Registry as 21 years old, born Warwick, of light complexion.

In 1850 Daniel L., and Mary Ann Cook were living in Lippitt Village next to his parents. On 17 October 1850 they deeded land there to Sally Sheldon, and on 1 November 1850 to Daniel's father. On 6 January 1853, with Sally Sheldon acting as their attorney, they sold land to his mother, Mary Cook, wife of George, as highest bidder (Warwick Deeds 28:91,93; 29:198).

1152. WILLIAM M.8 COOK, son of George Cook [522] and his wife Ruth Fish, was born 22 November, probably 1844, in Portsmouth, R.I., and died there 18 May 1917 of lobar pneumonia. The 1905 census lists him as a dealer in shellfish.

He married at Portsmouth, by J. G. Gammons, Methodist minister, 18 October 1874, HANNAH H. (MACOMBER) WENTWORTH, widow of Samuel H. Wentworth and daughter of John and Sarah J. (Downey) Macomber. She was born 29 March 1850 at Fall River, Mass., according to her application for a pension; the birthdate varies in other sources.

William served in the Civil War as a private in Company F, 1st Regiment, R.I. Light Artillery, enlisting 26 March 1865 and discharged 27 June 1865. He was described as a laborer, 5 feet, 6 inches tall, of light complexion with blue eyes and light brown hair. He received a pension.

In her application for a widow's pension, Hannah stated that she had first married, 4 April 1865, Samuel H. Wentworth, a whaleman, who had sailed from New Bedford three months after their marriage and had been killed by a whale in the first year of the voyage; they had no children. She said that in 1866 her husband's sea chest had been brought home by a homeward bound whaling ship and she went to New Bedford to get it; her sister Nancy Munroe, 51, of Portsmouth and niece Eva L. Carpenter, 59, of Providence testified in 1917 about that.

Hannah received a pension, but on 6 October 1932 she married, third, at Fall River, Frederick Seymour, a stone-carver, age 50, son of Herbert and Rebecca (Place) Seymour, born at Warren, R.I. In 1937 someone sent an anonymous letter (still in the file) informing the government of her marriage. Upon examination, it was determined that Hannah owed $2,491.67 in overpayments and a request for refund was made. Hannah declared that she would not have married had she realized she would lose her pension, saying that all she had was a life interest in property on Turnpike Avenue in Portsmouth "given me by my old friend Mrs. Eddy who was my employer for many years and now resides in California ... the property goes back to her on my death." She had no money, and said that Mr. Seymour was a relative on her father's side; she had needed someone to help her around the house, but the neighbors were talking so they were married. The case was apparently dropped (Civil War Pension Certificates 832,250 and 1,097,459).

Their two children were evidently adopted. The 1905 census states that Hannah was the mother of no children, and gives the names of Joseph's parents as unknown. No mention of them is made in the pension file.

Children (from census; ?adopted):

2194. i. JOSEPH B.9, b. Sept. 1879; m. A. May —; listed in 1905 as an engineer, with a son, JOSEPH B. Jr., b. 8 July 1905.

1154. HENRY LECHMERE[8] COOKE, son of Henry Marchant Cooke [527] and his first wife, Frances B. Buxton, was born Friday, 22 December 1809 on the north part of Lot 345, New Bern, N.C., and died 11 October 1885 in Ellis County, Texas.

He married in Tipton County, Tenn., 25 December 1834, MARTHA BURDESHAW. She was born 2 January 1815 in Abbeville District, S.C., daughter of John and Ellen Burdeshaw, and died 18 January 1893 in Texas. They are buried in the Boren Cemetery in Ellis County.

Henry L. Cooke and his brother Thomas were the first of the family to go to Tennessee. After their father's death, when his brothers and sisters decided to go on to Texas, Henry and his wife settled in Mississippi, where he taught school for twenty-one years before finally moving to Texas.

Included in Vertical File material in the DAR Library in Washington, among material on the Cooke family of Texas, is an item about Henry Lechmere Cooke by his son Silas, who stated that his father, who was a schoolteacher, read a chapter from the Bible every morning, believing that "we should take time to be Holy." He had rules which he read aloud every Monday morning: "Preserve these rules for the sake of yore; preserve them as I have done before." Silas wrote that "my father was truly one among the best of men - one whose pure life and good example we should all strive to imitate...." In 1937 Silas was living on the same farm his father had purchased when he came to Texas from Mississippi.

1161. WILLIAM GASTON[8] COOKE, son of Henry Marchant Cooke [527] and his first wife, Frances Barry Buxton, was born Wednesday, 20 December 1820 on Lot 29, Beaufort, N.C., and died 15 May 1892 in Ellis County, Texas.

He was married, first, in Harris County, Texas, 27 January 1848, to ANGELINA A. SALMON, who died about nine months later. He married, second, in Navarro County, Texas, 15 January 1851, ELEANOR CATHERINE KENDALL, who was born ca. 1833 in Illinois, daughter of Fenwick R. and Nancy (McKinney) Kendall. According to the 1880 census, her father was born in Ohio and her mother in Illinois.

William G. Cooke left Beaufort, N.C. with his father, brothers and sisters in 1834, and after the death of his father at Randolph, Tennessee in 1835, went on to Matagorda County, Texas. They moved to Lake Creek, Montgomery County, Texas in 1838. In 1840 he moved from there to Houston, Harris County, where he worked as a carpenter. The 1850 census of Navarro County listed him in the household of Fenwick R. Kendall.

He moved to Bethel near Mustang Creek, five miles west of Ennis, Texas, in Ellis County, in 1853. He was the first postmaster of Wilton Post Office at this location its first year, 1857-8. He built a house there for his brother Henry, who moved from Mississippi in 1856. In 1870 William G. moved to the Burnham area, six miles southwest of Ennis, on Waxahachie Creek, where he was a farmer and carpenter until his death.

He served in the State Militia and Confederate forces but did not take part in any battles. He was probably the W. G. Cooke who served in the 19th Texas Cavalry Regiment, Battalion 1, Ellis County. Politically a Democrat, he was a member of the Christian Church and Farmers Alliance, a Past Master Mason, and served as a School Trustee.

The 1900 Ellis County census lists Eleanor Catherine Cooke, widow, as mother of ten children, five then living. She, along with sons Thomas, Francis and Louis, and their families, moved in 1905 to McLean, Texas, in Gray County, perhaps living a year or two en route in Duncan, Oklahoma, where son Eldon had settled. She lived with Eldon a few years before her death.

The compiler is indebted to James Louis Cooke of Beaumont, Texas, for correcting earlier material on this family and adding new data in 1983.

He married near Caldwell, Texas, 3 April 1851, ELIZA JANE THOMAS, called "Jennie", who was born 22 February 1834 at Mobile, Miss. (thus in family record; should perhaps be Alabama) and died 25 December 1869 near Caldwell, Texas.

According to Agnes Rust Smith in her book, Back When and Now, Silas was drafted into Civil War service with his brother William G. Cooke and enlisted [sic] in the Home Guards stationed at Galveston. An S. L. Cook is listed as having served as a private in Locke's Regiment, Company A, 10th Texas Cavalry. Mrs. Smith stated that Silas lost his health in the war and never regained it. Before the war he had been a surveyor for the government, taking land in payment for his work, but because of the destruction of certain papers by fire, he never received all that was due him.

He was a Cumberland Presbyterian minister and teacher, according to a letter written by his son in 1936. See photographs in Back When and Now.

A copy of the Bible record of this family, its accuracy sworn to in 1949 by a granddaughter, Lizzie O. Luedecke, is in the DAR Library in Washington, in the Vertical File along with further material on these Cookes.

He settled in San Saba County, where he was county clerk from 1856 to 1860 and a justice of the peace.

He married ELLEN SHEPARD in Austin County, Texas. According to Velma Cooke, in Things That Count, they lived in Chappell Hill and later in the part of Bosque County which became Comanche County.

Alexander was a charter member of St. Luke's Episcopal Church at Chappell Hill and on the faculty of Chappell Institute. He later helped to organize the Episcopal Church in Hempstead, Texas. He served in the Confederacy in the Civil War as a volunteer in Company B, 20th Texas Infantry.

Children:

2248. i. ELLA[9]; m. --- Seay; lived in Comanche County.

+2249. ii. THOMAS PAINE, b. 1859; m. Emma Manning.

1168. JAMES WALLACE[8] COOKE, son of Thomas Cooke [528] and his wife Esther Wallace, was born Sunday, 23 August 1812 at Beaufort, N.C., and died 21 June 1869 at Portsmouth, Va.

He married at Trinity Church, Portsmouth, Va., 5 July 1848, MARY ELIZABETH ANN WATTS, daughter of Isaac and Sarah Ann (Bayton) Watts. She was born 9 January 1825 and died 6 March 1889. James W. Cooke, his wife Mary, and her mother are all buried in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Portsmouth, Va.

Mary's mother, Sarah Ann Watts, born 5 December 1807, was the daughter of William and Ann (Pigot) Bayton and granddaughter of Ralph and Mary Pigot; the family was in some way connected also with the Folgers of Nantucket, Mass. The Cooke family Bible, from which this information is taken, includes data on allied Pigot, Folger, and Lechmere families.

James Wallace Cooke was orphaned at the age of four. One account states that he and his sister were brought up by their uncle, Henry Marchant Cooke, and another that they were adopted by "an affectionate aunt," (probably Esther [Wallace] Borden, wife of Joseph Borden, who was actually their great-aunt, the sister of their maternal grandfather, James Wallace.) Perhaps through the influence of his uncle Henry M. Cook, James received an appointment as midshipman in the U.S. Navy at the age of sixteen, and was assigned first to the frigate Guerriere for a three year cruise in the Pacific, then to the frigate Constitution, cruising in the Mediterranean and later the West Indies. In spite of rather poor health, he advanced steadily in the Navy. After his marriage he was stationed in Washington, D.C. and bought a farm in Fairfax County, Va. where he lived between cruises.

He resigned his commission in 1861 in order to serve the Confederacy and was immediately appointed a commander in the Confederate Navy with orders to supervise the removal of Confederate property from Alexandria. He commanded several ships in active combat and was taken prisoner 7 February 1862 while in command of the Ellis, attempting to defend Elizabeth City, N.C. An old friend who was captain of one of the Federal ships recognized him and sent out orders for his capture, which lasted only a short time.

He took an active and enthusiastic part in the building of the ironclad Albemarle, personally collecting bolts and bits of iron, and later served as her commander in the engagement with the Federal fleet. He firmly believed that the South would have won the war had it developed and used its navy.

Visiting his Fairfax County home after the war, he found that it had been turned into a Federal hospital, and in 1866 the main house burned. In broken health, he sought a pardon from the U. S. Government and received it 13 August 1866.

James W. Cooke's great-granddaughter, Laura S. (Conant) Ingles, in 1974 wrote a college term paper about him, describing in detail his career and the various ships on which he served. She had access to personal letters and a diary kept by Mary (Watts) Cooke, as well as to published accounts and official documents. This compiler regrets that the paper is too long to include in its entirety here, and acknowledges with thanks the help that it has provided.

There is further information about them and the North Carolina Bordens, descended from Joseph[2] Borden of Rhode Island, in a manuscript Borden genealogy among the Pardon Gray Seabury Papers, New Bedford Free Library.

On 18 June 1822 Joseph Borden, a great-uncle by marriage, was appointed guardian of Harriet W. Cooke (Carteret Co. estate records at Raleigh, N.C.). According to an account written by the wife of James W. Cooke, the Bordens had a very large family of their own but took in the two orphaned Cookes. At that time they lived in Beaufort, N.C., but sometime after 1829 they removed to Alabama, where Harriet was married.

Several letters from Lucy E. Sheldon, Israel's second wife, written in 1866 and 1867 to Capt. James W. Cooke and his wife, have survived, sympathizing with the loss of their Virginia home and speaking of the two Sheldon girls. The family was living at Orange, N.J. at that time. He is said to have been married four times. He married before 1846, probably in Chicago, HARRIET NORTON, who was born in New York State ca. 1825 and died in 1854, aged 28 years. He married, second, before the 1860 census, JANE A. ——, born in New York State ca. 1830, who died in 1862 aged 32 years. Isaac Cook left home at fourteen and worked for several years in a merchandising business in New York City, joining the westward movement when he was nineteen to become one of the earliest settlers of Chicago. He began as a hotel keeper, but his business sense and interest in politics soon made him prominent. He became a close friend and supporter of Stephen A. Douglas, the "Little Giant" best known for his opposition to and debates with Abraham Lincoln. In 1844 he was appointed state agent for the sale of canal lands in Illinois, and later served four years as sheriff and then treasurer of Cook County; in 1852 he was appointed postmaster of Chicago.

When Lincoln was elected president, Isaac Cook and his Democratic party lost their position in Illinois and he turned to other interests. He was active in the construction of railways and hotels in Chicago and founded the newspaper which later became the Chicago Times. On a trip to Europe he became interested in wine making and in 1859 was elected president of the American Wine Company. Three years later he moved to St. Louis, where he established his business headquarters and founded a wine manufactory which became one of the best known in the country.

He is said to have had an unusually genial temperament. For a lengthy biographical account, see History of St. Louis, (1889), pages 479 through 481. Information here is taken from that source and from various obituaries and newspaper articles supplied by the St. Louis Public Library.

1210. JESSE[8] COOK, son of Jesse Cook [554] and his wife Elizabeth Harris,, was born 13 October 1813 at Long Branch, N.J., and died there 7 February 1894.

Jesse Cook was a fisherman and farmer at Fresh Pond, Monmouth Beach. In 1870 the census listed him as head of a household which included his mother-in-law, Elizabeth Tallman, 90.

Jesse Cook of Ocean Township signed his mark to his will, dated 27 February 1884 and proved 5 March 1894, naming his wife Deborah M., three sons Jesse V., John W., and William M. He married, second, LYDIA (WEST) WHITE, widow of Benjamin White and daughter of Elias and Deborah (Sherman) West. She was born ca. 1829 and died 12 September 1904 at Union, N.J. He was married by R. Taylor, minister, 13 November 1847, to HANNAH G. GARDNER; both were of Shrewsbury. Richard W. Cook stated that she was the daughter of John and Sarah (Kettill) Gardner, while an obituary of her sister, Mrs. Mary Throckmorton, who died 21 February 1904, claims that their father was Capt. James Gardiner ("Excerpts from Family Scrapbooks of Mrs. Harry P. Heldt, Long Branch," mostly death notices, OMHA). Hannah was born 8 December 1829 and died 5 April 1913; she and John are buried in the First Methodist Church Cemetery, West Long Branch, N.J.

Richard W. Cook wrote that John Cook was a farmer and fisherman in Ocean Township. In his will dated 22 December 1894 and proved 30 June 1898, he named his adopted son Lewis Cook and, with no relationship indicated, Lizzie Prae Worthley, wife of Charles Worthley, and her son John Worthley (Monmouth Wills D2:280). The application for probate names as heirs the widow Hannah Lewis Cook, alleged adopted son, and Lizzie Prae Worthley, alleged adopted daughter, and heirs of Steward Cook, deceased son [sic]; the latter is clearly an error for deceased brother (Monmouth Co. AP D: 309).

2315. i. LEWIS; living 1898.

2316. ii. LIZZIE PRAE; m. ---- Worthley; had son John, named in will of his adoptive grandfather.

1220. CATHARINE[8] COOK, daughter of Nathaniel Cook [556] and his wife Meribah Jackson, was born 14 May 1816 and died 12 August 1892. She married, probably ca. 1840, as his second wife, ELEMUEL PISANT HENRY, son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Paul) Henry, who was born 1 August 1811 and died 20 January 1899. Allen R. Cook and his wife Deborah are buried in the First Methodist Church Cemetery, West Long Branch.

Allen R. Cook was listed in the 1850 census as a farmer in Ocean Township. The family moved to Asbury Park in 1872, where he was superintendant. There is a photograph of him in History of Monmouth County, page 872.

In his will dated 24 February 1882 and proved 14 May 1883, Allen R. Cook of Neptune Township named "the children of my deceased wife Deborah Cook, Margaret A. Green, wife of Louis C. Green, and George P. Woolley" (Monmouth Wills O:388). He had probably adopted his wife's daughter Margaret, whose gravestone reads: "Margaret A. Cook, b. May 13, 1837, d. He married MARY BROWN BENNETT 3 July 1847, apparently in a double wedding with his sister Deborah and William S. Brown (Monmouth marriage records transcribed by N.J. DAR). Mary was born 30 November 1827 and died 11 January 1911. They are buried in Greenlawn Cemetery, West Long Branch, N.J.

The 1850 census lists Washington Cook, a boatman, in Ocean Township, with wife Mary and son Hartshorne, sharing the household of his father Samuel Cook. In 1870 George W. Cook was listed as a grocer. In 1900 Mary was living in the household of Charles E. Gregory in Long Branch, listed as "grandmother."

He married DELILAH COWDRICK, daughter of Jesse and Hannah (Barkelow) Cowdrick, who was born 14 November 1834 and died 22 March 1918.

The 1880 census listed Britton Cook as a hotel keeper in Tom's River, head of a household which included his sister Frances Cowdrick and her two children. In 1900, his household in Dover Township included his daughters Hannah and Zulema, sisters Matilda K. and Frances, niece Laura Cowdrick, and five servants who were born in Ireland.

On 28 February 1865 Robert C. Cook of the City and County of Camden, N.J. and his wife Louise B. Cook and wife Louise B. of Camden and William C. Scudder and wife Martha, trading as Scudder & Cook, sold land in Tom's River to Alice R. Irons, wife of William Irons (Ocean Co. The 1880 census listed the family at 429 Linden Street, Camden. Robert evidently died before 1900, when Louise, listed as widowed, was living with the family of her son Allen D. Cook at the same address.

1282. ALFRED[8] COOK, son of Thomas Cook [601] and his wife Betsey White, was born 17 May 1827 in Columbiana County, Ohio, and died 5 May 1893 at Grand Rapids, Michigan. He was a carpenter.

He married, first, in Trumbull County, Ohio, 2 July 1850, ELSIE BROWN, who died in September 1856. He married, second, in October 1856 at Leighton, Michigan, MARY E. BROWN, sister of his first wife, who died in May 1873. He married, third, at Paris, Kent County, Michigan, 21 October 1875, OLIVE MARIAH (BRIGHT) NILES, who was born 20 April 1853, daughter of Jonathan D. and Lois C. (Cook) Bright, and died after 1896. She first married, 7 December 1867, when only fourteen years old, William Niles, by whom she had two daughters, surname Niles: Mattie, and Rosa, b. January 1872. She married, third, 20 June 1893, her step-son, Adelbert Cook, son of Alfred and Mary E. (Brown) Cook. (Information from pension file.)

Alfred was a corporal in Company I, 17th Regiment, Michigan Infantry, enrolled 15 August 1862 at Wayland, Allegan County, Michigan, and discharged 3 June 1865 at Delaney House, D.C. A physical examination at age 61 described him as 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighing 129 lbs. In his application for a pension 24 October 1889, he stated that he had lived at Leighton, Michigan until 1886 and then Grand Rapids.

Olive applied in August 1893 for pension benefits for their children. A thorough inquiry revealed that, although her first husband had deserted her, they had never been legally divorced. It was also pointed out that Alfred was her great-uncle, but that Michigan law did not prohibit such a marriage. Testimony was given by several people, including Lydia M. Cook, 68, of Moline, who stated that Alfred's first and second wives, Elsie and Mary E., were her half-sisters; that Elsie had died at her home just two weeks before her own son Ellis died and she had arranged the funeral; she had also attended Mary in her illness. Edward H. Stein, secretary of the Board of Education in Grand Rapids, made a deposition that the family was in destitute circumstances [in 1896]; Wilbur was sick, Roy delicate, and Olive's husband [Adelbert] sick. Olive's sisters, Emma E. Ryno, and Mary A. Chappell, and aunt, Amy (Bright) Schwarts, 57, of Grand Rapids, also testified, Mrs. Schwarts stating that she was present at Olive's birth, on a farm 7 miles from Warren, Ohio, a mile and a half from Newton Falls. The claim was finally rejected on the grounds that Olive had not been divorced from William Niles. (Civil War Pension Files: Invalid Cert. 773163; Minor's Application 581,754).

The two men had taken passage on a steam-wheeler to San Francisco and from there to the mouth of the San Joaquin River.

After having been told that the crew intended to murder them for their gold, they attempted to swim ashore, near midnight, first throwing overboard sticks of cordwood to keep themselves afloat. Lorenzo was drowned, and Edward had the river dragged for two days but the body was never recovered. His diary goes on to describe the trip home, with interesting although brief comments on Jamaica and other stops along the way.

After returning from California, Edward taught school in Pulaski County, and after his marriage he began farming in Laclede County on the Osage Fork of the Gasconade River. During the Civil War he served in the Missouri State Militia. There is a biographical sketch of him in History of Laclede County, Missouri.

They are buried in the Macedonia Cemetery, Cookville, Missouri, on land now belonging to Fort Leonard Wood Post of the U. S. Army.

Their great-grandson, Ralph Cook, who shortly before his death supplied most of the information on this family, wrote:

> I never knew Grandpa John Thomas as he died two years before I was born, so what I know about him came from my father, John Thomas Cook, son of Lorenzo Burton Cook. He operated a water mill, located on Roubidoux Creek. I saw the remains of this mill, then owned by Henry Harrison Cook. It is said that Grandpa John Thomas chewed tobacco but was always asking for a chew from people who brought grain to the mill. He would cut off a piece then say "I believe I'll take another piece to see me through the day." The extra piece later was placed on a rafter. Day after day the tobacco on the rafter increased. One customer found out about this and when asked for a chew promptly gave one to John Thomas, then walked over and took all the tobacco on the rafter and walked away with it.

I remember Grandma "Peggy," who was paralyzed from a stroke and sat in a wheel chair the last ten years of her life. One day when my father and I were visiting her, she wanted us to get something but could not think what the name was, her inability to express herself having been impaired by the stroke. After many gestures and signs she finally uttered the sentence, "It grows everywhere." Father asked "Sassafras?" and that was it; Grandma wanted some sassafras tea.

He returned to New Jersey in 1843, then went back to the Fox River in the spring of 1844, settling in Bristol. About 1852 he moved on to Iowa, farming until 1855 and then keeping a hotel and stage coach station in Scott County, near Davenport, Iowa. He then moved north to Mitchell County to the new town of Osage, then returned to Bristol, Illinois, until May of 1861 when he left for California. In 1867 he moved again, to Walla Walla, then on again to start the town that is now Tacoma, Washington. After a year, he went to Olympia, where he lived for about twenty-seven years, working at his old trade of making and repairing stage coaches. After the death of his first wife, he went to Lincoln County, Washington, to live with his daughter Theresa, Mrs. J. L. Ball.

After his second marriage he returned to Iowa, his new wife's home, but after only eleven months she died. He returned then to Harrington, Washington, to live with his daughter. 1348. JANE ELIZABETH[8] COOK, daughter of James Cook [637] and his first wife, Mary Williamson, was born 13 August 1821 at Oakhurst, N.J., and died 31 December 1893.

She was married at Tinton Falls, N.J., 2 February 1841, to GARRET WYCKOFF CROPSEY. He was born 20 August 1809 and died 22 January 1882, son of Col. James and Jane (Wyckoff) Cropsey.

After the death of her father in 1834, Jane Elizabeth made her home with her uncle, John Cook [634], and when he and his family moved to Illinois, she went to spend that winter with his daughter, Ellen (Cook) Hubbard in Tinton Falls, N.J., intending to go west in the spring to live with her uncle. That winter she met and fell in love with Garret Wyckoff Cropsey of New Utrecht, Kings County, N.Y., and they were married in the home of her cousins, the Hubbards, at Tinton Falls.

They lived in New Utrecht until about 1860, when they moved to East Millstone, Somerset County, N.J., then in 1867 back to Unionville, New Utrecht, where they built a house at Bay 35th Street and Cropsey Avenue. While digging for this house, Mr. Cropsey came upon the remains of the first house ever built in New Utrecht, erected by Anthony Janse when he was granted a patent in 1643.

Information above and on the children is from a sketch contributed to Cook's Crier, 1:4 (Dec. 1969) by John Dorrance Morrell of Brooklyn, quoting material compiled by the late Miss Frances Bergen Cropsey which is now in the collections of the Long Island Historical Society.

Osborn, 17 April 1880, to MAGDALENA DIEFENBAKER of Alaska, Kent County, who was born November 1856 in Canada of German parents and died 19 September 1934, probably at Grand Rapids, Michigan. She used the name Lena, sometimes spelled Lana or Laney.

Sylvester R. Cook served in the Civil War as a sergeant in Company H, 6th Michigan Cavalry, assigned to the Army of the Potomac. His application for an invalid pension gives much genealogical information. He enlisted 9 September 1862, was transferred to Co. 58 of 2nd Battalion, Regiment of Veteran Reserve Corps 27 September 1863, and was discharged 24 August 1865 at Washington. At the time of his enlistment he was a farmer, 5 feet 7 inches tall, of light complexion with gray eyes and light hair. In 1890 he was living at Post Office Whitneyville, Kent County, Michigan, suffering from heart disease and other common complaints which plagued veterans of the Civil War, which he stated had been contracted at Fairfax Court House, Va. in August 1863. His weight was then 128 lbs. (Civil War Invalid Pension Cert. 789,800).

His widow applied for a pension, providing further information which has been incorporated above. In her application, she stated that she had lost her husband's pension record when she moved from her home at the corner of Madison and Gregg Avenues in Grand Rapids to a temporary boarding place. Affidavits that Lena had not been previously married were given by Fred A. Cook, Frank J. Cook, Eliza Osborn (wife of the minister who married them), Jennie Cook, and Alida Graham Oliver. The Pension Office was notified of her death by her [step] daughter, Mrs. Mary Cook Darling of Grand Rapids (Civil War Widow's Pension Cert. 719,191).

2625. ii. JAMES W., b. June 1876, d. 22 Dec. 1876 ae. 6m; buried with parents.

1388. MADISON W.[8] COOK, son of Lewis Cook [648] and his wife Elizabeth Teeple, was born 10 May 1834 near Plymouth, Washtenau County, Michigan, and died 6 June 1916 in the Soldiers' Home, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

He was married in Paris Township, Kent County, Michigan, by Rev. Evarts, 22 February 1857 (pension record) or 23 Feb. 1858 (VR abstract by Michigan DAR), to LUCY J. CROSS, 21, of Hastings, Michigan. They were divorced 24 February 1887.

Madison served in the Civil War as a private in Company H, 1st Regiment, Michigan Volunteer Engineers and Mechanics. In his application in 1909 for an invalid pension, he stated that he had enlisted 21 December 1863 and was discharged 22 May 1865 at Detroit. Records show that at enlistment he was a farmer, of light complexion with gray eyes and auburn hair. He lived at Paris, Kent County, until 13 January 1892, when he entered the Soldiers' Home. A physical examination in 1907 stated him to be 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall, suffering from injuries resulting from a fall from a sleigh at Grand Rapids in 1863 when on furlough; it was claimed that he was on his way to report at headquarters in Grand Rapids when he slipped while getting out of the sleigh, falling on his left hip and shoulder and fracturing his left clavicle. He had been treated at the time at St. Mary's General Hospital in Detroit, but was unable to walk without a crutch or a cane. His first claim, in May 1865, was rejected because the injury was not incurred in the line of duty, but when reviewed in 1909 he received $20. per month commencing 13 May 1909 (Civil War Invalid Pension Cert. 885,004).

WESTFALL, who was then of Plainfield; Leonard was a resident of Macon, Lenawee County. Caroline was born 4 July 1849 at Unadilla, Michigan; both her parents were born in New York State. She survived her husband and was listed as informant on his death certificate.

Leonard served in the Civil War as a private in Company D, 30th Michigan Infantry, and received an invalid pension. Records in the file show that he enlisted 30 November 1864 and was discharged 30 June 1865; he was 5 feet, 9 1/4 inches tall, a farmer, with blue eyes and dark hair; at age 46 he weighed 156 lbs. He sustained a back injury in the war when he and two other men were ordered to wash and clean up a soldier named Snover, "an insane member of his company, who resisted"; in the scuffle he was thrown against a seat in the schoolhouse where the incident occurred. Among the people who testified in support of his claim was William Clarkson, 53, of Tecumseh, who had known him 40 years and said that they had been boys together.

In his application, Leonard entered information from the family Bible record, including the names of his parents and the date and place of his own birth (Civil War Invalid Pension Cert. 844,650; Widow's Cert. 946,175).

1523. JOHN STANTON[8] COOK, son of Samuel Cory Cook [696] and his wife Hannah Little, was born 13 July 1815 in Little Compton, R.I., and died 13 January 1893 at 136 Washington Street, New Bedford, Mass. His death record lists him as a retired stable keeper.

He married three times. His first wife, ANN ELIZABETH GIFFORD, died 11 March 1852 at New Bedford, aged 27 years. He married, second, at New Bedford, 24 February 1856, PHEBE READ, daughter of Thomas and Louisa Read, who was born in Westport and died 11 March 1862 at New Bedford aged 28. He was married, third, 8 May 1864 by Isaac H. Coe, clergyman, at New Bedford, to NANCY C. O'CONNER, who was born there ca. 1836, daughter of Thomas and Catherine O'Conner. She died there at 320 Cottage Street, 1 October 1926 aged 89 years, 8 months and 6 days. John S. Cook and his second and third wives are buried in New Bedford Rural Cemetery.

John S. Cook was a cabinetmaker of Tiverton on 6 November 1843 when he joined his brothers in selling land in Little Compton. In 1847 he was called a grocer, of New Bedford, and in 1865 proprietor of a meat market. He evidently became keeper of a livery stable about this time, because Horatio Hathaway, writing in 1930, cited records which showed John S. Cook paying $15. yearly rent for the corner lot on 4th and Spring Streets in 1872 and $20. the following year. Hathaway commented that all through his childhood John Cook's Livery Stable was on that corner, and that Mr. Cook "was a fine old gentleman, with a ruddy red face and snow white hair and beard. He always brought out a fast trotter when the snow came." (Horatio Hathaway, A New Bedford Merchant, "Being Notes Taken from records in the office of the late Thomas Schuyler Hathaway, a Successful Shipowner of the 19th Century," [1930]).

Williams of New Bedford testified, for the pension claim of Edwin's widow, that he "knew him for many years and knew him in California in 1850 where he died ... he died at Jamestown at that time called Woods' Creek."

He died intestate. Henry H. Crapo was appointed guardian of Edwin F. Cook, Ann E. Cook and Albert H. Cook on 4 April 1854 (Bristol Co. Probate 100:467).

In 1886 Almeda W. Cook now Harford, who lived at the corner of North and Florence Streets in New Bedford, was granted a pension for the death of her son Albert H. Cook, which was related to service in the Civil War. In her declaration she stated that she had married, second, in the year 1862, Hiram A. Harford, who died about 1868. She said that he had abandoned her; she was now about 80 and had no income. "In New Bedford I kept boarders and married Mr. Harford and in about a year he wanted to go to Boston to live ... when the money was exhausted, he left me." She had supported herself by sewing and day labor until she was too old, and then had been supported by the city. "My boy worked in the Bake House after the War. I ask that my case be made Special...." (Civil War Pensions, Mother's Cert. 280,794).

" He lived in the household with my family ... a man of good steady habits respected by all ... came home sick and feeble ... able to do some light work in the Bakery ... earned about $5. a week [which he] gave to his mother ... I hope that I never shall live to suffer as that young man did."

In his will dated 9 October 1883 and proved 4 February 1899, S. S. Cook of Parkersburg named only his wife Florida (Wood Co. Wills 8:533).

The 1880 census lists Samuel as a farmer, living in a house on Market Street, Parkersburg. The household included Florida's brother Daniel Neal Jr., 30, who was an attorney at law, two boarders and two servants.

The will of Florida Cook, dated 24 January 1928 and recorded 1 June 1929, names her daughters Edna O. Dils and Carrie Gray and her sons James Cook and Daniel Russell Cook. Carrie was of Sewickley, Pa. and James of New York City (Wood Co. Wills 12:471).

Some information has been supplied by Edwin L. D. Dils of Parkersburg.

1560. AUGUSTA VIRGINIA[8] COOK, daughter of Tillinghast A. Cook [731] and his wife Elizabeth Russell, was born 2 December 1839 near Parkersburg, Virginia (later West Virginia), and died after 1877 when she was said to be living at Fort Kearney, Nebraska. She married, 17 October 1864, SAMUEL F. BERRY.

Wolfe.

i. BETTIE, b. 9 Aug. 1869.

Child, surname WOLFE (G. Leonard Gold, "American Colonial Ancestry of Capt. John James ...," typescript [1942], GSU microfilm 940,918):

ii. WILLIAM HENRY; m. Catherine White.

1564. DAVID STEPHENSON[8] COOK, son of Barker Cook [732] and his wife Mary W. McClintock, was born 16 November 1819 near Parkersburg, Virginia (later West Virginia), and died 30 March 1879. He was married, in Wood County, by Rev. James B. Austin, 20 August 1840, to JULIA ANN PHELPS, who was born 22 March 1822 in [West] Virginia and died 4 May 1901. In 1900 she was living in Lubeck District, Wood County, with a grandson, David Cook.

According to the census, Julia was the mother of ten children, five of them living in 1900. Birthplaces of the children indicate that the family went to Missouri after 1845 and returned before 1854.

Julia A. Cook applied in 1884 for a mother's pension, stating that her son David M. Cook had been killed while serving in the Civil War and that there were six children between 3 and 14 years old in the family, which had been dependent on his work on the farm. The file contains much genealogical information. Various relatives and neighbors testified that David S. Cook had not been well and had had difficulty supporting his family, working at farming and some coopering before he died. Elijah Mancey, age 74, and James A. Mancey, 47, testified that in 1860 the family had a small farm of about 100 acres and several children, one son older than David and another one next to him, both sickly and consumptive, who had since died. W. T. Cook of Parkersburg testified that Mrs. Cook now had no means to subsist except what trading she could do in selling a little butter and eggs that she managed to raise.

Julia got the pension, but her case was reviewed in 1894 when some neighbors reported that her need had been exaggerated in the original claim, and some of the former witnesses declined to testify again. It was stated that Julia had about 100 acres, two horses and two or three cows, no money at interest but made a comfortable living off the farm. A deposition by her son Rev. Charles W. Cook, then of Baltimore, was rated "A" by the pension office and she retained the pension until her death (Civil War Pension, Mother's Cert. 253,363).

David and Julia and their children William B., David, and Mary E. Ruble are buried in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Missouri Creek, Wood County, to which directions given in 1982 are to "turn right at the end of Lost Pavement, bearing to the right."

Children (four oldest and two youngest b. Wood County; some stated to have been born in Missouri; birthdates from pension file):

At the time of enlistment he was described as 5 ft., 10 in. tall, a farmer, of fair complexion with blue eyes and dark hair. In 1884 his mother applied for a pension (see above). There is a stone for him in Pleasant Hill Cemetery.

1566. JOSEPH BARKER[8] COOK, son of Barker Cook [732] and his wife Mary W. McClintock, was born 14 February 1825 near Parkersburg, Virginia (later West Virginia), and died 28 February 1874 of pneumonia at Ewington, Gallia County, Ohio.

He was married in Wood County, 6 June 1849, by D. A. McGinnis, minister, to AURELIA P. GUTHRIE, daughter of the Rev. Guthrie of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She died 27 April 1892 (date from pension file).

Original pages from the family Bible are in Joseph's pension file in the National Archives. He was a private and a corporal in Company D, 194th Ohio Volunteers and in Company H, 148th Ohio Volunteers, enrolled 24 February 1865 and discharged 12 August 1865 at Cumberland, Md.; at time of enlistment he was described as a cooper, 40 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, with dark complexion, gray eyes, and black hair. He applied for an invalid pension in December 1873; John Gilliland, captain of Company D, 194th Regiment, testified that on the march from Charleston to Winchester Corporal Cook became sick and exhausted, unable to walk, and had been taken by ambulance to the railroad station near Summit Point, W. Va., then to hospital at Claronville, Md., until his discharge. Dr. C. C. J. Guthrie, who stated that he had been the family physician from 1865 until 1870 when the Cooks removed to Ewington, Gallia County, Ohio, testified that J. B. Cook had been suffering from chronic hepatitis, dyspepsia and asthma.

Aurelia applied for a widow's pension, but was first rejected because her husband had died of pneumonia which originated after his discharge. A deposition was made by L. J. Ballentine, who related that Joseph had told him "the Government had enough to do to pay the National Debt without pensioning him, and that he thought he'd get better but he got worse"; he could do nothing but light work; he had tried to dig in a cut for a railroad but gave out in two or three hours, so he was given light work, pruning fruit trees and grape vines on account of being an ex-soldier.

The case was reviewed and a widow's pension of $8. granted plus $2. for each child monthly, beginning 1 March 1874, until they reached 16 years. At that time Aurelia was living at Volcano, Wood County, W.Va. (Civil War Pensions, Invalid Cert. 312,896; Widow's 218,472).

Children (from Bible record in pension file; some Wood Co. birth records):

2803. i. ELIZABETH JANE REBECA[9], b. 25 March 1850; m. as Lizzie Jane Cook, 13 Dec. 1871 at Ewington, Ohio, William E. Ballentine.

2811. ix. OLIVIA GRANT, b. 23 Aug. 1864, d. 19 Sept. 1885 Parkersburg, unmarried (Wood Co. Deaths gives birthplace as Belpre, Ohio); buried Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Missouri Creek.

2812. x. HATTIE ESTELLE, b. 16 Aug. 1867.

1567. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN[8] COOK, son of Barker Cook [732] and his wife Mary W. McClintock, was born 31 July 1827 in Wood County, Virginia (later West Virginia), and died after 1880 when he was listed on the census in Parkersburg, West Virginia, living with his daughter Hannah. He was a carpenter at that time.

He married, 29 January 1851, JULIA ANN HADDOP, who is said to have died 2 May 1874.

Lack of information in Wood County vital records suggests that this family may have moved somewhere else after the birth of son William Franklin in 1854 and that after Julia's death Benjamin returned to Parkersburg. His death record has not been found.

Children (first three given by Welles; Shaw claims there were seven):

2813. i. MARY FRANCES[9], b. 25 May 1852.

In 1900 W. T. Cook was listed in the census in the household of his son-in-law Peter Deem in Tygart District, Wood County.

Church, at his residence, to Kate Myrtle Foley, 16, b. Wood Co.; m. (2) Laura Watkins (Wood Co. Marriages and Deaths). In his will dated 22 April 1937 and proved 16 April 1938, R. E. Cook named only his wife Laura A., who was to be executrix (Wood Co. Wills 14:357).

1570. SELDEN SPENCER[8] COOK, son of Rev. Pardon Cook [733] and his wife Mary Russell, was born 8 January 1820 at Parkersburg, Virginia (later West Virginia), and died in Chillicothe, Ohio, suddenly, on Sunday morning, 17 December 1899 about 3 a.m., of angina pectoris. He was an attorney. He is buried in Grandview Cemetery, Chillicothe, Ohio.

He married, first, 23 November 1846, SARAH JANE CURTIS, eldest daughter of Jason R. Curtis of Marietta, Ohio, who died 27 June 1847. He married, second, 21 March 1857, ELIZA STEPHENSON BERRYMAN, only daughter of Rev. David Combly Berryman of St. Clairville, Ohio. Eliza died in August 1887 and he married, third, 17 December 1890, MARY ALICE SNYDER, who survived him.

Selden Spencer Cook received his early education in Marietta, Ohio, then attended Allegheny College in Meadville, Pennsylvania, from which he graduated in 1841. While attending college, he taught school between terms to finance his education, and he walked from Marietta to Meadville. He was admitted to the bar at Marietta in 1843 and in 1852 removed to Chillicothe, where he was the attorney for the M. & C. Railroad until 1869, securing all the rights of way for it between Chillicothe and Cincinnati. He retired from the practice of law about fifteen years before his death.

His obituary is subcaptioned "He died in Agnosticism." It states that until 1870 he was a devout Methodist, but "at that time the seeds of skepticism were planted in him and he became a vigorous student of theology and biblical lore and about 1874 had become a confirmed agnostic. ... He kept a diary which is filled with the notes of his religious research and his personal impressions, as well as the notes of current events during his long life ... up to the last, agnosticism stood forth as his creed." He left directions that his funeral be held without religious ceremony (obituary, Chillicothe Daily Gazette, 18 Dec. 1899).

Selden Spencer Cook appears to have been the first descendant of Thomas Cook of Portsmouth to attempt to write a family genealogy. Stephen L. Snyder of Clinton, Md., has a letter written to his own ancestor Abial Cook, Esq. of Norwich, N.Y., by Selden S. Cook, dated 19 April 1860 at Chillicothe, in which Selden stated that "my brothers at Marietta, Ohio, now have my book, and are trying to arrange among our relatives for its printing." He enclosed a handwritten copy of the genealogy, including a map of the early Cook lands at Portsmouth and Tiverton, R.I., which has been reproduced here, and stated that the book itself was much more full, "and contains all the old wills and deeds." He had been in touch with Paul C., Constant, and Charles Cook, of Steuben and Schuyler Counties, N.Y., and regretted that while he was at school at Meadville, Pa., from 1838 to 1841, he had not known that he had so many relatives just over the state line.

His book was evidently never printed, but it was clearly the source of most of the material used in American Colonial Antiquity by Welles, whose work follows the same selected family lines and contains many of the same errors found in the abstract sent by Selden S. Cook to Abial Cook. It is especially interesting that his notes on the Cook burying ground off Glen Road in Portsmouth claim that there were about forty graves, but the only inscriptions visible in 1860 were the same that were legible in 1983, including that on the broken stone of Mary (Borden) Cook.

Helen M. (Cook) Kendrick, who tried to update the genealogy ca. 1892 (notebook in Rhode Island Historical Society Library), was apparently in touch with Selden or a member of his family, but her information is incomplete.

No probate records for this family have been located, and a search for the manuscript of the Cook genealogy has been unsuccessful.

Children (by second wife, Eliza Berryman):

2828. i. (THOMAS) PAUL[9], (twin), b. 4 Aug. 1859; in 1892 said to be a prosecuting attorney for Ross County, Ohio. His father's obituary in 1899 called him Mr. Paul Cook, stating only that he had "not been located this morning."

2829. ii. (JOHN) ST. CLAIR, (twin), b. 4 Aug. 1859; of Newport, Ohio in December 1899. According to the G. Leonard Gold typescript (1942, GSU microfilm 940,918), he had a son RUSSELL L.[10] living at Columbus, Ohio.

2830. iii. RUSSELL (PARDON), b. 25 June 1862. According to the records of Helen Cook Kendrick, he was in Europe in 1892. His father's obituary in 1899 stated that he was then in Mexico City.

1571. JONATHAN RUSSELL[8] COOKE, son of Rev. Pardon Cook [733] and his wife Mary Russell, was born 15 June 1821 in Washington County, Ohio, and died 26 December 1861 at Marietta, Ohio, where he was engaged in the planing mill business. He was married, 13 March 1850 by Rev. D. W. Tolford of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Marietta, Ohio, to SUSAN MORGAN DODGE, only daughter of Sidney and Mary (Hall) Dodge of Marietta. She was born 13 August 1821 and died 2 December 1900. The 1900 census lists her in the household of her son George.

Children:

+2832. ii. RUSSELL DODGE, b. 10 Sept. 1853; m. Linnie Irene Drown.

(Curtis) Cook. He was then of Portsmouth, Ohio, and of Barlow, Ohio, in 1888 when he was administrator of his father-in-law's estate. There is a short biographical account of him in History of Marietta. They had no children.

1572. PARDON[8] COOKE, M.D., son of Rev. Pardon Cook [733] and his wife Mary Russell, was born 10 January 1823 near Parkersburg, Virginia (later West Virginia), and died 31 August 1863 of typho-malarial fever, on a steamer on the White River near Duvalls Bluff, Arkansas, while in Civil War service. He is buried at Marietta, Ohio. The name was often spelled Cooke in this family, although not always. He was married, by J. J. McIllyar, minister, 10 November 1852, to MARY ELLEN HUNTER, daughter of William F. and Mary (Kincaid) Hunter, who was born 5 December 1831 at Woodsfield, Monroe County, Ohio, where she was living in 1900 with her son.

Dr. Pardon Cook graduated from Sterling Medical College in Columbus, Ohio, in 1852. He enlisted in the Army as an Assistant Surgeon in October 1861 at Columbus, serving in the 77th Regiment of Ohio Volunteers.

Mary Ellen Cooke applied 28 September 1863 for a pension for herself and her minor son, William Hunter Cooke. She received $17. per month. On 7 July 1873 Rev. Pardon Cook of Marietta testified that he had lived next door to the family when William was born, and Mary Cooke of Marietta [probably Dr. Pardon's mother] testified that she had been present at the birth and that the physician in attendance had since died.

William H. Cooke of Woodsfield, Ohio, on 8 August 1881 applied for arrears due on the pension (Civil War Widow's Pension Cert. 17,062).

Child, COOKE (date from pension file):

2837. i. WILLIAM HUNTER[9], b. 8 Dec. 1854, d. 1927; unmarried in 1900 when living at Woodsfield, Ohio; an attorney.

1579. TIMOTHY DAVIS[8] COOK, son of Robert Cook [734] and his wife Almy B. Davis, was born 11 November 1807 in the part of Dartmouth, Mass. which was later set off as Acushnet, and died 2 November 1888, aged 81, at New Bedford. He was a housewright. He and ROSALINDA LEWIS, both of New Bedford, were married there 1 March 1829. She was born 23 August 1811 at Middleborough, Mass., daughter of Lathrop and Hannah Lewis, and died 10 November 1885 at New Bedford. They are buried in the Rural Cemetery there.

In his will dated 10 March 1888, Timothy D. Cook directed that his homestead be sold and the proceeds divided among his seven children then living. The petition lists all children who are known to have lived to adulthood except Harriet; all were of New Bedford except Rosalinda Sherman, who was of Providence, R.I., and George, of Saginaw, Michigan (Bristol Co. Probate file 5392).

Children (some recorded New Bedford VR; others from census; all m. New Bedford):

2838. i. HARRIET D.[9], b. 13 July 1830; m. 29 March 1855 Henry C. Gifford, son of Charles and Dolly (Spooner) Gifford, b. 12 Oct. 1830.

His death record gives his birthplace but not the names of his parents. He married BETSEY R. ELLIS, who was born 31 August 1811 at Harwich, Mass.

Although the age differs, this is probably the Charles G. Cook, 22, born Dartmouth, 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall, light complexion with brown eyes and brown hair, who was on the crew of the brig Columbus, out of New Bedford, in 1827 and 1828 (Seaman's Records at New Bedford Library).

He married, first, 28 February 1821, BETSEY LOOMIS of Columbia, Conn., daughter of Asa Loomis. She died 7 September 1861 aged 61 and is buried in Liberty Hill Cemetery. Bennett married, second, 22 October 1862, CLARISSA P. BENNETT, daughter of Plimpton and Eunice (Potter) Bennett, who was born 25 December 1809 and died 5 January 1904 at Hebron, Conn. She is buried in Windham, Conn. Her death certificate states that she was born in Royce City, R.I. [?Rice City] and that her father was born in England.

On 28 March 1825 Bennet and Betsey Cook sold to Elisha York, Jr. land in Lebanon inherited by Betsey from Asa Loomis (Lebanon Deeds 24:91). They evidently removed to New York State for some time, since Christopher was born ca. 1830 in Buffalo and Mary J. ca. 1836 in New York State, with James D. stated on census to have been born between the two in Connecticut. The 1850 Census shows the family in Columbia, Conn., and on 5 February 1851 Bennet Cook of Columbia bought land in Lebanon from Betsey and Sally Bliss (Lebanon Deeds 30:465).

The will of Bennett Cook, dated 17 September 1868 and proved 5 November 1879, names his wife Clarissa P. Cook; sons Edward T. and James D. Cook; daughter Maryanna M. Loomis (also called M. Malvina Loomis); and grandsons Willie C. Coe and Walter G. Cook. Each was to have one-fifth of the estate after Clarissa's death, and if any disputed the will he or she was to lose all share. He is buried in Liberty Hill Cemetery, Lebanon, Connecticut. His given name may have been Reuben Taber, for the husband of Meribah Bennett, sister of the Anne/Nancy Bennett believed to have been his mother.

He married, at Newport R.I., 20 September 1826, MARY ANN LAWTON (records of First Baptist Church of Newport). She was of Portsmouth, daughter of Samuel and Abigail (Spooner) Lawton, born 14 July 1800 at Newport and died 18 January 1878. She is buried in the Moodus Cemetery at East Haddam, Connecticut with the family of her daughter Nancy Chapman.

Reuben Cook died intestate. Mary Anne Cook, the widow, on 2 August 1850 consented to have the entire estate sold and to take such proportion as the court should allow her. John L. Cook was appointed administrator 27 December 1851 and a sale was held. The inventory shows that John L. and Bennett Cook bought many of the household goods and farm tools (Lebanon Probate District, File 309, CSL).

Benjamin T. Cranston of Norwich and John L. Cook of Lebanon were on 4 January 1850 appointed guardians of Nancy B. Cook and Benjamin Cranston was appointed guardian of Abby Jane Cook (ibid., files 303 and 308).

He served in the Civil War as a First Staff Sergeant, 13th Regiment, Connecticut Volunteers, enlisting Dec. 1861 at Middletown, Conn. and discharged 27 July 1863 at New Orleans. He received an invalid pension (Cert. 932,757), suffering from rheumatism, vertigo, deafness and urinary disease. His widow also received a pension (437,147); notice of her death was sent by Mrs. F. W. Harris Jr. of Rockfall, Conn., at whose home she died. In her declaration, Mary stated that they had no children and she had "no property, no income other than $100. left me by my uncle, and no one living bound to support me ... my husband was always poor."

1590. EDWARD T. W.[8] COOK, son of Job Cook [747] and his wife Nancy [?Bennett], was born July 1805 in Portsmouth, R.I., and died there 22 May 1863 aged 57 years and 10 months.

He married MARY T. GREENE, usually called Polly, who was the daughter of Hawkins and Sarah (Tennant) Greene. She was born ca. 1809 in Middletown, R.I., and died 10 October 1874 in Portsmouth, aged 65.

Edward Cook probably remained in Portsmouth with grandparents or other relatives when the rest of his family moved to Connecticut, although it is possible that he went and later returned to Rhode Island. His parents' names are given on his death record.

On 24 March 1860 Edward T. W. and Polly T. Cook of Portsmouth conveyed to Jacob Chase of the same place one and three quarters acres of land there on the east side of the turnpike to Bristol Ferry. On 3 November 1863 Polly T. Cook deeded to John Roberts of Portsmouth land there that had been set off to her by her father, Hawkins Greene, Esq. (Portsmouth Deeds 14:233, 449).

Capt. John L. Cook sold land in Lebanon next to that of his father on 5 December 1836 to Thomas T. They left Connecticut and were of Oswego, N.Y. on 24 November 1843 when John bought land at Liberty Hill, Lebanon, Conn. from Emelious Gay. In February 1846 he bought his father's land and gave him a life lease on it (Lebanon Deeds 26:451, 462; 30:118, 663-664).

Her two Cook daughters were in her household, both dressmakers, and there were also two Davy children, Esther, born November 1882 and Lester, born August 1884.

He was a druggist and later owned a small ranch. He and his wife are buried in Oakdale Memorial Park, Glendora, with the family of their daughter Alice.

His wife was ITALIA ISABELLA RICHMOND, daughter of Edwin R. and Mary Jane Richmond, born at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in May 1845; she died 10 August 1923 at Covina, California. They were married at Milwaukee 28 May 1866, by Rev. John Wilkinson of St. James Episcopal Church, who made an error in the record, calling her Italia Elizabeth Richmond, which had to be corrected later in order for her to receive a pension. Carolyn E. Richmond, age 70, made a deposition 8 October 1917 that she had known Benjamin and Italia since both were of marriagable age and the minister had made a mistake; Abbie M. Cook of Covina, age 88, also testified.

They lived in Milwaukee before settling in Lyons, Iowa where they were listed in the 1880 census, then moved on to become early settlers of Covina, California, where a street was later named for Italia.

Benjamin served in the Civil War with the 24th Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, as a private, corporal, sergeant, and from 1 September 1863 as a hospital steward. He enlisted 9 August 1862 at Milwaukee and was discharged 10 June 1865 at Nashville, Tennesee. In 1881 he applied for an invalid pension, stating that he was totally deaf in his right ear as a result of concussion caused by a shell while on duty near Chickamauga, Tenn. He declared that he was disabled and had to "hire a man to do all the work on our little ranch"; G. Wiley Wells, 58, of Los Angeles, testified in 1900 that Benjamin "looked as if he might die at any moment." At age 50 he was 5 feet, 11 3/4 inches tall, 141 pounds.

In 1904 Italia applied for a widow's pension. Frustrated in June 1917 by the government's lack of action, she wrote, "if you are not going to do anything more please return my papers and answer this letter. Land is only a drag — one can neither sell or pay taxes and assessments ... time is of great moment when one gets to my age." (Civil War Pension Files: Invalid Cert. 708,789; Widow's Cert. 833,250).

Brought up by her grandparents after the early death of her mother in New York State, Phebe Ann lived at the Cook homestead in Portsmouth, R.I. until her marriage. Her granddaughter recalled that she used to return year after year to the Glen for ferns and flowers for her garden, and "especially how eager she was to go for clumps of ox-eyed daisies, which she said grew larger and sturdier there than in any other place, and the gorgeous blossoms in her own garden would seem to prove that she was right." He was married 27 September 1848 to MARY McCAY at her father's home at Bath, N.Y. She was born 14 May 1827, daughter of William Wallace and Sarah Newbold (Barton) McCay, and died ca. 1904. The parish house of St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Bath was given by her husband in her memory.

H. H. Cook was in banking in Bath with his father until 1875, when he moved to New York City, went into railroad contracting, and amassed a large fortune. At the time of his death, although long retired, he was president of the Bank of Bath and director of several bank and trust companies.

He built a mansion near Lenox, Massachusetts and named it "Wheatleigh" after what he (erroneously) believed to be the Cook ancestral home in England. This estate was the subject of an article in the Sunday New York Times of 13 February 1977, followed by a more factually sensible account in the Corning Leader of 17 February. At that time the house was being turned into an inn, after having been owned for some time by the Boston Symphony Orchestra and used as a dormitory for students at Tanglewood, and efforts to promote business by suggesting that the place was haunted by the ghost of Henry's daughter Georgie were properly put down in the Corning hometown newspaper. The house has been listed in Country Inns of New England, and pictures of its architectural details, for which no expense was spared, have appeared in various studies of Victorian mansions.

The will of Henry H. Cook, proved 24 October 1905, and quoted in the New York Times the next day, named his four surviving daughters, Georgie Bruce, wife of Carlos M. DeHeredia; Marianna, wife of Clinton D. MacDugald; Marie Louise, widow of M. Rumsey Miller; and Sarah McCay, widow of Charles F. Ganson. Large bequests were made to the Rector and Trustees of St. Thomas Episcopal Church at Fifth Avenue and 53rd Street in New York, and to set up an H. H. Cook endowment fund at St. Thomas Church in Bath, where he was having a rectory built. The Metropolitan Museum of Art received most of his art treasures. Several servants were remembered, and executors and trustees named were Elihu Root and Carlos M. DeHeredia.

The first volume of the memoirs of his granddaughter, Mabel (Ganson) Luhan, Intimate Memories (Harcourt Brace, 1933), includes descriptions of life in this family. Mabel was clearly misinformed about the origins of her Cook anestors, however.

Jennie was probably the daughter of Harvey and Henriet Hill, with whom they were sharing a household in 1900 in Ballston Spa. George and Jennie are buried in Ballston Spa Cemetery.

George M. Cook was a partner in the Cook & Phillips Grocery & Seed Store in Ballston Spa, N.Y. for more than fifty years.

He is named as a nephew and heir-at-law of James Cook in 1864, and his death record lists his mother as Ruth Cook. He married at Fall River, 10 October 1842, CATHERINE LAKE, who was born ca. July 1822 in Rhode Island and died 30 March 1891 in Fall River, aged 68 years, 8 months, and 12 days. They are buried in North Burial Ground, Fall River.

He married his cousin, RHODA MANCHESTER, daughter of Benjamin and Lusannah (Cook) Manchester, who was born February 1818 and died 7 December 1892 at Fall River. They are buried with her parents and some of her brothers and sisters. Probate records for Rhoda name as heirs her husband and brothers and sisters, so it is certain that all of her children had died earlier, which may help to explain a period of mental illness in 1886 when her husband was appointed her guardian. John Cook also died intestate, and his administration records name only his brother and three sisters (Bristol Co. Probate File 17615).

He was married three times. His first wife was MELVINA YOUNG, who was born at Manchester, N.H. He married, second, at Fall River 7 July 1860, SARAH FRANCIS YOUNG, daughter of Daniel and Mary (Young) Young [sic], born ca. 1839 at Manchester, N.H. He married, third, at Providence, 12 June 1876, IDA FRANCES HILTON, daughter of John and Almira F. Hilton, born ca. 1856 at Wrentham, Mass. The 1900 census listed him as divorced, with his son William, both iron moulders, living as boarders in the household of John Stanley in Taunton.

He was probably the Nathan Cook shown in the 1900 census living at 474 Ferry Street, Newark, N.J., stated to have been born May 1840 in Massachusetts and with wife Belle.

He married, first, at St. Paul's Church, Providence, 9 June 1866, HARRIET ELIZA (——) WILCOX of Pawtucket, 23, who was born in Liverpool, England. The record calls it her second marriage, but gives her parents only as John and Anne. Nathan was 20, a stove founder. He married, second, at the Congregational Church, Pawtucket, R.I., 8 July 1870, BELLE E. HUGHES, 19, of Smithfield, daughter of John and Anna M. (Thompson) Hughes. He was then 32, an iron founder, of Norwich, Conn.

Nathan evidently was a mariner in his early years. On 1 December 1853, giving his age as 17, he registered with the Seamen's Protection Registry at New Bedford; he was then of Tiverton, 5 feet, 3 1/2 inches tall, light complexioned with dark hair and brown eyes; in 1858, at age 21, he was described as of Fall River, with dark complexion, black hair and black eyes.

In 1880 the family was living at Bridgeport, with William's occupation given as moulder. Mary was 34, her birthplace given as New York with parents born in Ireland. The children, however, are listed as born in Connecticut with their father born in Massachusetts and their mother in Ireland. Mary's death record gives her birthplace as New York.

On 19 August 1897, Margaret McCauley, Florence H. Cook, Adelaide M. Cook, 20, William H. Cook Jr., 18, Emma C. Cook, 16, Franklin J. Cook, 14, and Edward E. Cook, 9, requested that a guardian be appointed for the minor children. It was stated that they were children of William H. Cook, residence unknown; they had no mother living and the estate they had was not derived from their father. Margaret McCauley was appointed guardian, with Florence F. Cook of Bridgeport and William H. Wilson of New Haven giving bond. On 23 August 1897 Margaret was given permission to sell real estate on Mill Street in Greenwich, Conn. (Probate File, CSL).

On 25 August 1897 Margaret McGawley [sic], widow, and Florence Cook, children of Mary A. Cook, deceased, joined other heirs of Michael Boyle of Bridgeport in selling land at East Port Chester in Greenwich to Paul and Susan Juliasz of Greenwich; it was noted that Margaret was guardian of the five younger children who were minors. The other Boyle heirs were Michael Corlies and wife Margaret, W. J. Parker and wife Ellen, all of Greenwich; William Boyle of Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island; and William H. She was born 11 March 1846 in Peora County, Illinois and died ca. 1919 in Tampico, Mexico.

David Cook enlisted in the Army 30 January 1865 at Watseka, Illinois. He served as a Sergeant in Company B, 134th Regiment, Illinois Volunteer Infantry, and in Company D, 150th Regiment. At the time of his enlistment he was a farmer, 6 feet 1 inch tall, weighing 145 pounds, with black hair, dark eyes, and fair complexion. He was discharged at Atlanta, Ga. 16 January 1866, incapacitated with tuberculosis. He applied for a pension 13 June 1905, stating that he had lived in Iroquois County, Illinois until the fall of 1872, then in Kansas until 1893, and since then in Oklahoma Territory, and that he was working in a bank.

From letters in the possession of this compiler, it is known that he was president of the First National Bank of Kingman, Kansas, from 1887 until 1892. In 1880 he and his family were living in Newton, Kansas with his parents. He was living in Canadian County, Oklahoma Territory, in 1901 when he wrote a letter in support of his mother's application for a Civil War pension, sending pages from the family Bible.

After his death his widow applied for a pension; the application was signed also by A. R. Bushnell and Ray D. Cook, both of Monterey, Mexico. In 1906 Henry L. Bushnell and Mrs. Hattie A. Bushnell, both 63, of Hoopeston, Vermilion County, Illinois, made depositions stating that they had been present at the wedding of David and Mary, which took place at the home of her parents in Gilman. Mary applied for an increase in 1916, at which time she lived at 646 Honeywell Avenue, Hoopeston. Charles L. Engle, 35, of El Reno, Oklahoma, testified that he had known her for 15 years and that she had no real estate and no income except from her own labor, and that she was at present supported by relatives in Mexico. Mary H. Cook, widow, of Tampico, Mexico, was dropped from the pension rolls 1 December 1923 for failure to claim her checks, the last payment having been made 4 May 1919 (Civil War Pension Cert. 1336301).

She was born 1 February 1848 at Roycefield, N.J., and died 12 October 1926 at Stamford, N.Y. Ada (Wilson) Cook obtained a divorce in New Jersey, 5 January 1888, and married, second, in New York City 29 November 1889, Dubois F. Hasbrouck, the Catskill Mountain landscape artist.

William A. Cook is buried in Greenlawn Cemetery, Long Branch, N.J. with his parents. Ada (Wilson) Hasbrouck is buried with her second husband in the Stamford Cemetery, Stamford, N.Y.

William A. Cook was in the Civil War as a Private in Company E, 71st Regiment, New York Militia, from 28 May until 2 September 1862. He may also have served in the Navy. At the time of his marriage he was working at Lord & Taylor in New York City. After his marriage he lived in Newark, N.J. until November 1880 when he removed to Long Branch where he was for a time in the window business.

In his application for a disability pension, 31 July 1890, he stated that he had spinal paralysis. On 4 January 1893 Thomas H. Williams was appointed guardian of William A. Cook, who was temporarily insane (Monmouth Co. Letters of Guardianship, C:274). In his pension application he was stated to be 5' 5 1/2", with dark complexion, gray hair and hazel eyes. He is said to have played the violin.

In his will dated 9 October 1895, William A. Cook of Atlantic Township, Monmouth County, N.Y. bequeathed his bed, bedding and family pictures to Jennie E. Hanaway of Long Branch, and the wooden chest formerly the property of Jesse W. Cook, with tools, to Joseph E. Hanaway. He left the balance of his real and personal property to his three children: $100. to his daughter Ada and the rest to his sons Harry C. and Walter R. Cook. Thomas H. Williams was named executor. In a codicil dated 18 December 1895, at which time he was living at West Asbury Park, Neptune Township, he bequeathed $250. to Mrs. Nettie Matthews of West Asbury Park, or to her daughter Nettie. Washington White of Asbury Park was named executor of this codicil (Prerogative Wills No. 87 - 1896).

Thomas H. Williams, as executor, on 10 May 1896 swore that Ada was more than 21, Harry C. over 21, and Walter R. about 21. In the settlement Ada W. Hassinger received $100., Harry C. Cook received $728.54, and Walter R. Cook received $728.55.

The government marker on his grave states that he was of New York and born 27 Dec. 1875. In so far as was known by his nephew, Richard W. Cook (who wrote this information), Uncle Harry was never of New York and the birthdate is in error as stated. In a letter to Richard W. Cook, dated 10 April 1953, he said that he was in the U.S. Navy at the age of 14 and in the U.S. Marine Corps in 1917 at the age of 44. The grave marker says that he was "Pvt. U.S. Marine Corps Res." Chattle, M.D., of Long Branch, N.J., enlisted 8 October 1861 and was Hospital Steward in Company A, 29th Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers. From a letter to his parents, dated 30 November 1862, we learn that he was then stationed at Camp Parker, near Tennallytown, Md. and from another letter, dated 29 January 1863, that he was in a camp near Belle Plains, Va. On 27 March 1863 he came down with typhoid fever and was sent on 18 April as a convalescent to the General Hospital at Washington, D.C. On 13 May 1863 he was in Chestnut Hill Hospital at Philadelphia. He was probably discharged that year, for he wrote from New York City that Christmas Day, saying "Will was here this afternoon and staid a short time with me."

Michael M. Cook purchased a drug store in Long Branch, then in 1867 sold it to Dr. Green and moved to Brooklyn, N.Y. He is listed in Brooklyn Directories from 1882 to 1895, from 1888 to 1895 living at Herkimer Street there. He moved to Closter, N.J., and later to Schenectady, N.Y., where he lived until his death.

There is a biographical sketch of Charles A. Cook in History of Monmouth County, (1922), but the birth years given therein for his children are in error, since all but the youngest appear on the 1900 census. He was Road Supervisor for Howell Township and is said to have been known as one of the largest potato growers in the East. The family were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Farmingdale.

A record presented by Britton C. Cook of Farmingdale concerning Charles A. Cook names the latter's daughters Viola C. Russell, widow; Amy C. Tilton, widow; Marietta L. C. He married, first, in Trumbull County, Ohio, 4 March 1852, MARGARET HOWER (Trumbull Co. Marriages; her name Howard in pension file), who died 22 June 1892. He married, second, at Wayland, Allegan County, Michigan, by Daniel T. Hersey, J.P., 17 February 1877, ALICE SPEARS, born probably January 1861, although at marriage she gave her age as 18; in August 1913 she was living in Grand Rapids, Michigan, her age given as 52 7/12.

Pleman [sic] Cook served in the Civil War in Company D, 6th Regiment, Ohio Cavalry; he enlisted 2 November 1861 in Columbiana County and was discharged 27 June 1865 at Petersburg, Va. He was 5'11", with dark complexion, black hair and hazel eyes. In his claim for a pension he stated that he was ruptured in 1864 at Culpeper, Va. The pension file includes depositions by his uncle, Alfred Cook, who was a near neighbor; Hudson Spears, Alice's brother, who said that his mother, Melissa Spears, Mrs. Alfred Chappell, and Lydia M. Cook had been midwives at the birth of the Cook children and that Lydia was Alice's aunt; Simon Miller of Newton, Trumbull County, Ohio, who had known Pleman from boyhood to his enlistment; and Russel W. Goodrich of Grand Rapids, who said that after Pleman's death Alice was compelled to do laundry, hoe corn, dig potatoes and husband corn to support herself and the children. Dewitt C. Brown, 51, declared on 29 March 1894 that he had known both Pleman and Alice, that Pleman had owned a farm of 100 acres and had made some foolish business transactions and in a few years lost farm and all, then went to work for Brown cutting wood until he became sick and went to the Alms House at Allegan, then home again, then to the Soldiers' Home. Alice did housework for Brown about two years at $1. per week and board for herself and three children, before the birth of her last child.

Alice received a widow's pension, which in 1895 was questioned because of statements by one Sarah J. Brown, who after much inquiry was ruled to be a wholly unreliable witness (Civil War Pension File, Inv. Cert. 409652; Widow's Cert. 4072000).

The petition for probate of Melissa C. Cook's will listed as heirs her husband William Frank Cook and children: Mary Cook Archer, Charles S. Cook, Arthur Francis Cook, and Edward H. Cook. That was too much for her husband, who left and worked at odd jobs around the county. At her death, Sallie Ann was the oldest resident of Pulaski County; she had 129 living descendants. There were many stories of the hardships of the Civil War (in which Robert had served). She had one saying, 'Well, I wished I may never,' when there was a difficult task to take care of. She could tell the best ghost stories, and liked to laugh and joke with young children. My grandfather, William Henry Woody, had the same humor and merry spirit in spite of the hard life endured in raising a family of five children through lean times. Sallie Ann was always there to help when needed ... she remained active until three weeks before her death, when she suffered a stroke at the home of her daughter Addie Ann Nicks. — OTHER COOK FAMILIES IN EARLY RHODE ISLAND —

There were several other early Cook families in Rhode Island and nearby towns in Massachusetts, for whom no relationship to Thomas Cooke alias Butcher of Portsmouth has been found. The compiler has not attempted to do exhaustive research on these families, beyond determining that there seems to be no evidence to place them among the descendants of Thomas. The following information is given to aid researchers who may be interested in doing further work on these lines.

GREGORY COOK of South Kingstown, R.I., was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, according to a statement made 7 December 1767 before the Town Council of South Kingstown when he was asked to produce evidence of his last legal settlement (TC 5:194). He died, a suicide by hanging, in December 1805 (Nailer Tom's Diary, p. 267). He was either a tailor or a hatter, or both. He paid taxes in South Kingstown from 1767, but no land transactions for him there have been found. Census records indicate that he had sons or apprentices, but no records have been found to determine which or how many of each. There are no records of his marriage or births of his children in South Kingstown, although an entry in Nailer Tom's Diary does mention the burial of the wife (not named) of Gregory Cook on 18 December 1797. He served in Lippitt's Regiment in 1776.

Gregory may well be the father of some unidentified Cooks of the next generation, such as Elisha who died in 1831 in South Kingstown, but evidence has not been found.

JOHN COOK of Warwick, R.I., (ancestor of Rhode Island Governor Nicholas Cooke). See "John Cooke of Warwick, R.I., and Middletown, Conn." by Jane Fletcher Fiske, in The American Genealogist 52 (1976) pages 1-10.

This John Cook, stated in Warwick town council records to be nephew of Stukely Westcott, was born in England and died intestate in Warwick, R.I., early in 1655/6. He married MARY ——, who survived him and married, second, Thomas Ralph.

Children:

i. ELIZABETH, b. perhaps ca. 1648; m. at Warwick 22 Dec. 1666 JOHN HARROD.

ii. JOHN[2], b. ca. 1650 Warwick, d. 16 Jan. 1704/5 Middletown, Conn.; m. (1) ca. 1676 PHEBE WEEDEN, daughter of William Weeden. They were divorced in 1684. Phebe married, second, William Peckham, and had more children by her second marriage. John married, second, ca. 1690, HANNAH HARRIS, daughter of Capt. Daniel and Mary (Weld) Harris of Rowley, Mass., and Middletown. She married, second, as his second wife, Jonathan Sprague.

In his will dated 15 August 1698, John Coock [sic] of Middletown named his sons John and Daniel and daughters Mary and Sarah, and mentioned a child with which his wife was pregnant (Middletown Probate at CSL).

Children,

(by first wife, Phebe Weeden):

1. John, b. ca. 1677, d. Feb. 1717 Newport, unmarried.
2. Mary, b. ca. 1679; m. ca. 1699 James Barker; res. Middletown, R.I.

(by second wife, Hannah Harris; b. Middletown, Conn.):

3. Daniel, b. 19 Sept. 1691; m. Mary Power. Their son Nicholas was governor of Rhode Island during the Revolution.
4. Sarah, b. ca. 1693; m. John Burlingame of Providence.
5. Ebenezer, b. 16 Sept. 1698; m. Patience Gorton.

RICHARD COOK, ropemaker, of Dartmouth, Salem, and Boston, Mass., was born ca. 1748 and died in Boston in November 1809, aged 61 (Columbian Centinel of 15 Nov.). He was of Dartmouth when he married, first, intentions there 2 May 1772, DINAH GIFFORD. He married, second, intentions at Dartmouth 14 October 1774, MERCEY MOSHER, daughter of Constant Mosher of Dartmouth. She died in Boston in January 1838, aged 94 (Columbian Centinel of 24 Jan.). B.F. Wilbour in Little Compton Families omits Mercy from the list of Constant Mosher's children, but accountings in Constant's probate prove her identiy.

On 11 August 1775 Richard Cook of Dartmouth bought land from Seth Mosher, and on 18 January 1779 from Constant Mosher. He sold land on 3 February 1783 to Benjamin Sims, and on 12 November 1784 to Constant Mosher (Bristol Co. Deeds 56:428; 59:106; 61:272; 63:152).

Daniel Ricketson in his History of New Bedford names Richard Cook as having served in the Revolution in 1778 and 1780 from Dartmouth. He was a private in Capt. George Claghorn's company, Col. Abiel Mitchell's Bristol County Regiment, enlisted 31 July 1780, discharged 31 October 1730 (Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors).

Richard was of Salem, Mass., in 1789 when sold land in Bristol County, and by 1790 he was living in Boston, with a household that included three boys under 16 and one female besides his wife. The 1796 Boston Directory lists him as a ropemaker, living on Frog Lane.

Among the descendants of Thomas Cooke of Portsmouth who were living in Dartmouth at the same time and had similar Revolutionary service were Joseph Cook of Long Plain and Thomas Cook, son of Constant and Isabel (Devol) Cook, but no evidence has been found to place Richard in either of these families.

Children (births recorded Dartmouth VR),

(by first wife, Dinah Gifford):

i. RICHARD, b. 6 Dec. 1772.

(by second wife, Mercy Mosher):

ii. JOHN DOPSON, b. 19 Feb. 1778.

iii. PARDON, b. 20 June 1780.

iv. DINAH, b. 23 Sept. 1782.

ROBERT COOK of Portsmouth, R.I.; married Thamer Tyler, 5 December 1678 at Portsmouth, and died there, on Hog Island, in July 1704. Thamer (Tamar) was the daughter of John and Sarah (Havens) Tyler. The best source of information on this man in print is "Descendants of John Tyler of Portsmouth" by Ruth Wilder Sherman, in The American Genealogist 52 [1976]: 220-225.

Children:

i. MERCY, b. 27 June 1682.

ii. MIRIAM, b. 9 Dec. 1689; m. Richard Tuckerman.

iii. SAMUEL, b. 19 Dec. 1695, d. Coventry, R.I., between 23 April 1781 and 5 April 1783; m. (1) ENFIELD GREENE, (2) MARY KING. He was the ancestor of a group of Otsego County, N.Y., settlers, including the John Cook with Revolutionary Service who m. Thankful Tripp and settled in Laurens, N.Y.

THOMAS COOK, weaver, of Portsmouth, who married MARY/MARCY MOTT, was born probably about 1657 and died at Portsmouth in 1725. His wife, daughter of Jacob and Joanna (Slocum) Mott, was born 8 January 1666 and died after April 1739 when she signed as witness to a Quaker marriage. Her father in his will dated 31 January 1711 named her as Marcy Cook and left to her £10.

At a meeting of the Portsmouth Town Council on 14, 12th month, 1706/7, at the house of Benjamin Hall, it was ordered that "Jacob Mott should give bond unto the town treasury to save the town harmless from any charge concerning the maintenance of his son-in-law Thomas Cook or any of his family and the said Jacob Mott promised to do the same" (Portsmouth TC Book 2, not numbered).

This is probably the Thomas Cook who in a deposition at Newport, 22 July 1719, about the estates of Isaac and Thomas Lawton, called himself 62 years old or thereabouts (Rhode Island Historical Society Collections 26:61).

On 12, 5th month, 1725, William Sanford, clerk of the town council, and two other sufficient freeholders were ordered to take the inventory of the estate of Thomas Cook, weaver, who lately died intestate (Portsmouth TC 2:74). William Sanford and Ralph Allen reported on 9, 6th month, that they had been to the house of the late deceased Thomas Cook, weaver, who died intestate, and "the widow of said Cook thought the council had nothing to do to take an inventory of said estate inasmuch as they were admitted into this Town no otherwise than under bonds, and therefore had not freedom to present the personal estate of said intestate to be inventoried and also further said that Joseph Shearman was going to said Cook's to take an inventory whom he and the said Allen mett upon their return" (ibid., 76).

On 14 February 1731, the Portsmouth Town Council ordered the bond given by Jacob Mott to the council for the Town's indemnity against his son-in-law Thomas Cook and family be remitted to Jacob Mott son to the above said Jacob Mott and the said bond rendered null and void (ibid., 3:31).

On 18 April 1739 Marcy Cook and [her son] Thomas Cook signed as witnesses to the Quaker marriage of Nathaniel Green and Mary Mott, daughter of Jacob and Rest Mott of Portsmouth (R.I. Friends Records, Newport Historical Society). This is the last known record of her.

Probable children (no birth records found):

i. WILLIAM. He was town crier in Newport 1717-1722 (G.H. Richardson Scrapbook 982:9), "to ring at night and when fish and fruit be brought." He was probably the same William Cook, weaver, whose wife Katherine died in Newport in August 1732, two weeks after having been struck over the eye with an old iron scoop spade wielded by Thomas Hammett. According to the Rhode Island Gazette the attack occurred without any provocation, in the dusk of the evening, Hammett being very drunk. He was sentenced to death by hanging but escaped gaol on 10 October with the help of his wife, who came to visit him and in whose cloak and bonnet he walked out. When the prison keeper went to lock up, he found Hammett's wife and child in the room; "the bonnet was thrown over the prison wall last night." (R.I.Gazette, issues of 8 and 15 Sept. and 11 Oct. 1732).

ii. THOMAS, d. West Greenwich, R.I., 1781; of Portsmouth 12 Dec. 1763 when he married, at Warwick, SARAH MOOT [sic; possibly a variant of Mott, although evidence has not been found]. His name appears as witness to Quaker marriages in Newport records 1739, 1748, 1750, and 1752, involving members of the Mott, Lawton, and Gould families. On a 1730 census of Portsmouth (Scrap Book p. 121), his name is next to that of Jacob Mott, assessed for 3s.2d., while other Cooks in Portsmouth are grouped together in another part of the list. The G.H. Richardson Scrapbook No. 982, Newport Historical Society, (p. 20) states that Thomas Cook was schoolmaster "in the woods, at Middletown 1735" with John Gould. As Thomas Cook, weaver, of Portsmouth, he bought land in West Greenwich. In his will dated 18 February 1781 and recorded the last Saturday in April 1781, he mentioned his wife Sarah, sons Thomas and James, and daughter Phebe Cook (West Greenwich Probate 2:232); the births of Thomas, 13 July 1764, and Phebe, 17 Nov. 1768, are recorded in East Greenwich, where later generations of this family may be traced.

THOMAS COOK, mariner, of Newport, who married MARTHA TOMPKINS, was evidently born about 1770 in England. His death was noted in the Rhode Island Republican of 6 June 1810: "on his passage from Havana (four days out), Mr. Thomas Cooke, in the 40th year of his age. He was an industrious man, and has left a wife and several small children to lament their loss."

He married, about 1800, Martha Tompkins, daughter of Elijah and Elizabeth (Pratt) Tompkins. She was born in Little Compton, R.I., 3 November 1773, and died in New Bedford, Massachusetts, 5 July 1866, aged 92 years, 8 months, and one day.

Thomas Cooke of Newport, mariner, on 2 April 1808 purchased from John Easton two pieces of land in Newport on the hill, with John Street to the south, about 110 feet in width. On 23 August 1832, Martha Cook of Newport, widow, Thomas Cook, merchant, William T. Cook, sailmaker, Joseph Brown Coggeshall, trader, and wife Ann Eliza Coggeshall, all of New Bedford, sold the above land to John Tompkins of Newport, blockmaker (Newport Deeds 10:303, 335; 19:113).

Death records of Thomas and Ann Eliza both state that their father was born in England. Efforts to place him among the descendants of Thomas Cooke of Portsmouth have been unsuccessful.

Children (births not recorded):

i. THOMAS[2], b. 5 Feb. 1801 Newport, R.I., died 20 Sept. 1890 in New Bedford, Mass., a retired merchant. Some records call him a tailor. He married at Newport, 4 May 1826, MARY ANN HUDSON, daughter of Capt. Samuel Hudson (Providence Journal of 15 May 1826). She was born 3 July 1804.

Children (born New Bedford, Mass.):

1. Mary Ann Hudson[3], b. 1829, d. 3 July 1830, ae 1y 1m.
2. Thomas Washburn, b. 1831, d. 18 Dec. 1836 ae 5y 2m.

8. Frederick H., b. 29 May 1846, d. 9 Aug. 1848 ae 2y 2m.

ii. WILLIAM T., born ca. 1805 in Newport, R.I.; married at New Bedford, Mass., 8 May 1828, ELIZABETH HAFFORDS of New Bedford. In 1850 they were living in New Bedford with his mother in their household, and children as listed below. New Bedford Mercury marriage notices for the two daughters suggest that some of the family moved west between 1850 and 1860.

Children (from census; only Martha's birth in New Bedford VR; marriages from New Bedford Mercury marriage index, New Bedford Free Library):

1. Mary E.[3], b. ca. 1832; m. in Lick Creek, Missouri, 26 July 1860, Philetus Stone of Waco, Texas.

2. Gilbert M. F., b. ca. 1835. In 1850 he was a sailor. A Gilbert Cook was later a teacher at Union Seminary, Acushnet.
3. William R., b. ca. 1837; m. Cornelia A. Seabury, daughter of Otis and Caroline (Bailey) Seabury, who was mentioned in the will of her grandfather, Peleg Bailey of Little Compton, dated September 1855 (LCF p. 35).

   William died intestate. The widow Cornelia A. Cook on 2 June 1876 was appointed administratrix of the estate; Samuel H. Cook, L. Washburn Cook, and William M. Matthews were appointed appraisers. On 7 April 1876 Cornelia was appointed guardian of children Clarence A., Elizabeth B., Mary T., Cornelia S., and Otis S. Cook, with Otis Seabury and Thomas Cook as bondsmen. On 13 March 1900, a release was signed by Cornelia S. Abbott of Providence, Clarence A. Cook, Elizabeth B. Mackie, Mary T. Stanton, all of New Bedford, and Otis Seabury Cook, to Cornelia A. Cook, administratrix of their father's estate (Bristol Co. Probate File).

   Children (dates of birth from guardianship):
   (1.) Clarence A.[4], b. 11 Jan. 1856, d. 1 Jan. 1919.
   (2.) Elizabeth B., b. 14 Jan. 1858; m. ----- Mackie.
   (3.) Mary T., b. 30 Sept. 1863; m. ----- Stanton.
   (4.) Cornelia S., b. 28 Aug. 1866; m. ----- Abbott.
   (5.) Otis Seabury, b. 30 July 1873.
4. Martha, b. 27 April 1843, New Bedford; m. in Crestline, Ohio, 11 April 1864, Arthur C. Comer of Malta, Ohio. The marriage notice called her the daughter of William T. Cook late of New Bedford.

iii. ANN ELIZA, b. 1807, d. 25 Feb. 1909, New Bedford; buried Oak Grove Cemetery. She married at New Bedford, 9 July 1828, JOSEPH BROWN COGGESHALL, who was born there in 1803 and died there 25 September 1848, son of Capt. James and Mary (Brown) Coggeshall.

WALTER COOK of Mendon, Massachusetts, settled in Weymouth, Massachusetts, and later Mendon. Many descendants are found in the Providence County, Rhode Island, towns of Smithfield and Glocester. See "The Walter Cook(e) Genealogy," a manuscript, by Myrtle M. Jillson (Waterbury, Conn., 1940), copies of which are in both the NEHGS and NYGBS Libraries. This family also was the subject of a series of newspaper columns in the Newport Mercury by Mrs. H. Ruth Cook, available in scrapbook form at RIHS and several other libraries, usually called "The Cooks of Rhode Island." Two people who have done substantial work in recent years to update the Walter Cook genealogy are Robert Cook, 1137 Hillslope Place, Los Altos, California 94022, and Mrs. Dean Smith of Main Street, Pepperell, Massachusetts, and Goleta, California.

This compiler in a genealogical note published in NEHGR 128 (1974), p. 153, suggested that Walter Cook's wife Catherine may have been the sister Catherine Cook mentioned by William Brenton of Newport in his will. No further evidence for or against this identification has been discovered.

— INDEX OF PERSONAL NAMES — * indicates the page of primary reference for that man, as head of a family.

All names appearing in the text, whether Cook descendants or not, have been included in the index. For quick reference, there is a Directory of Heads of Families and Spouses (through Generation Seven) at the end of Volume One.

Married women are indexed under both their maiden and married names if known. The reader should be aware of the possibility of variant spellings of surnames, and also of certain given names, especially Catherine/Catharine/Katherine, as well as such old fashioned nicknames as Betsey (Elizabeth), Nabby (Abigail), Patty (Martha), Jennie (Jane), Polly (Mary), Cassie (Catherine), and Sally or Sadie (Sarah).

The same person may appear in the index both with and without middle name or middle initial, and thus perhaps separated alphabetically.

To quickly find a Cook man or woman with a common first name, first locate a spouse, a child, a parent, a sibling — anyone with a more unusual name who was associated with him/her and might therefore appear on the same page.

The two spellings, Cook and Cooke, have been combined for easier reference.
